Ground Black

cct, 23—tf

PHILADELPHIA, JANUARY 29, 1825.

TERMS-82 00 per annum, if paid in advance, 82 50 at the end of six months, and 83 00 if not paid within the year.

Published by ATKINSON & ALEXANDER, No. 53 Market street, four doors below Second street.

ADVERTISEMENTS, not exceeding a square, inserted three times for a 1-larger ones in proportion—a liberal deduction made to substraines.

WHOLE No. 183,

Vol. IV .- No. 5.

ORIGINAL POETRY.

A TOUCH AT THE POETS-CONTINUED. A TOUCH AT THE POETS—cents.
While we denounce much woe that poets feign,
There is a grief of which we'll ne'er complain;
"Tis when for alceping friend the poet grieves,
And round his harp the eypress twines its leaves.
Oh! grief for those who living claim'd our love,
Grief for the dead not virtue can reprove;"*
Reprove! oh! no—the holiest tear we shed,
Is that which fails for friends—for kindred dead:
Victifications corrow, wakes up pitying sigh. Is that which falls for friends—for kindred dead: Fictitious sorrow wakes no pitying sigh, But woe, when real, moistens many an eye; Kind beauty weeps, and manly hearts can melt, For minstrel's sorrow, if that sorrow's fett.

When "Melaneholy" mourns for her, whose home is fix'd within the dark sepulchre's gloom, llow pitying fancy paints a lover's pain, so softly breath'd in sorrow's pensive strain! It tells of days when hope and love look'd bright, while yet undimm'd by death's relentless blight; Ere, like a "leat" the mourner here did "stay"—Ere she he lov'd had "found her home in etay."

Yet, the the nova had "found are notice in early."
Yet, the the muse is sweet in sorrowing strain, We love her much when in a laughing vein—Such as when "Jerry" in the Olio-shines, And sterling wit, with Nature's fire, combines. Yet "Jerry!" why so seldon do we hear. Those notes, which never fail to please the car? Oh! do not, like an avaricious elf.
Keep all thy gold at home to charm thyself; Let others humbly claim a share of thee, And sing again with all thy wonted glee.

"D." in his sketch, has drawn to plastic life. The village school, that scene of noise and strife; And manhood scarce can read his lay, nor sigh, And manhood scarce can read his lay, nor sign, for days of boyhood pass'd forever by.

How many a "Pat," or "Jim," with mem'ry's aid, Has seen himself in "D's." gay verse pourtray'd:

The master's frown—his birch hung up on high—His little air of "brief authority"—All rise once more, to slumb'ring memory's view.

And tell that "D." has sketch'd the scene most true.

Yet, the 'tis ever pleasing to commend, Where candour may, nor sacred truth offend, We still must bear in mind, the painful knife That amputates a limb, oft saves a life.

Some bards exhaust their brains, and waste their time, In celebrating many a lass in rhyme; Spoil'd by their songs, the giddy girls they praise, Soon grow as triffing as the notes they raise: Now, who shall blame affection's glowing verse, If Genius should a mistress charms reheave: Say who shall blame, if Genius' line reveals The tender thrill love's swelling bosom feels? With such we war not—yet we do complain, Of many a whining, amatory strain, With which our modern bards deluge the press, 'Their readers tire, and Cupid's self distress. Verses to "Jane," to "Laura," or to "Mary," Abound, in drawling notes, that never vary; And many a lass, a loving song receives, Which, like her mirror, flatters and deceives!

Oh! when shall noble themes our bards engage, And native poets charm a wond'ring age?
In our blest land, they surely themes may find,
To win the heart, and elevate the mind;
Let them rehearse the deeds of bravery done
By him who e'er was Freedom's favour'd son; Advert, in glowing verse, to days long past, When war's loud trumpet sounded on the blast-When our forefathers rose in all their might. And Freedom's bright sun dawn'd on Slav'ry's night

In vain the warrior fights, the statesman toils Greatness performs, but tooks, e'en from the tomb, For heavenly verse to shed perennial bloom Around the laurels that its deeds had wop, are yet at virtuon course on earth was done.

Lines written on a cloudy evening. The day has departed, Eve's vapours hang wet; And tho' bright the sun started, In clouds has he set;

And while slowly sinking, Half veil'd, as in sorrow, The sun of Hope brightly

My life's morn was cheeri His rays shedding lightly— While now 'tis descending, And closing joy's day, And clouds are attending To hide his last ray!

But see! von cloud beaming So high in the west, Has caught the last gleaming Of light on its breast; And like some maid's blushes,

It seems an assurance,

That night, now so darkling-Those clouds in the skies, Should vanish, when sparkling, The morn should arise.

Oh! could Hope's fading splendour, My skies thus illumine, And the clouds that attend her But rob of their bloom,

My soul, gaily springing, Should bask in its ray, FERAMORZ.

THE ORANGE TREE. Thy snowy blossoms do but rise Symbols of beauty's fleeting ray, Which like them blushes, blooms and dies, Ere smiling spring hath past away.

Neglect them—or with care around
Thy brow the infant blossoms braid;
Yet, leaf by leaf, they will be found
To fly, e'en as our picasures fade!

These fleeting joys still let us prize —
Dispute them with the passing gales;
The perfume which so quickly dies,
From blooming chalices inhales.

Emblem of beauty's transient flower!
The bud that opens with the morn,
Which falls, before the festal hour.
From laughing brows it should adorn!

And since they perish there forever— Since no return they e'er may prove, Oh! may thy blossoms wither never, Unless beneath the breath of love!

THE BATTLE OF YORKTOWN. AN INSTATION. When at Yorktown's heights afar, The British came our peace to mar, In battle learnt that Yankees are Forever foes to Monarchy!

To arms! to arms! the trumpets sound; To arms! themeighbouring bills resound, And every soldier takes his ground, To fight!—to die!—tor victory!

By courage rous'd, for Freedom's aid, Fayette then drew his battle blade, And 'midst the roar of cannounde, Oppos'd she fues of Liberty! Fight on !- hylit on !" loud eried the chief,

Then shook the hills like earthquake riven— Then rush'd the balls, by freemen driven— Far in the firmament of heaven Resound the great artillery!

Columbia's sons the charge sustain'd;
'They ev'ry nerve and sinew strain'd,
While Britain's balls around them rain'd
Like torrents sent from heaven!

Louder yet our eannous peal'd; Firm our yeomen kept the field, Resolv'd to perish e'er to yield! Or wear the yoke of Slavery!

The combat cras'd !- to our defenders, Great Cornwallis now sarrenders, And to a Washington he tenders The sword of British Monarchy! Hail! Columbia-shout ye brave, Who fought for freedom, or the grave; Wave your spangled banner! wave! And welcome, welcome, Liberty!

THE MORALIST.

A HINT TO MINISTERS. As we fear it may be the mistake of some their families and firesides."

NATURE'S NOBILITY. We have no copy-right patricians in this country, nor any orders of nobility secured by letters patent; nevertheless the following thoughts may receive an application:

"No man," says Seneca, "is nobler born than another, unless he is born with better abilities, or a more amiable disposition. They who make such a parade with their family pictures and pedigrees are, properly speaking, rather to be called noted, or notorious, than noble, persons,"

It is certainly true, as is said by a late English writer, that the greatest instances of virtue and excellence of every kind, have originated in the middle order. "Give me neither poverty nor riches," was a prayer founded on knowledge of human nature, and fully justified by experience. The middle station affords the best opportunities for the improvement of the mind, is the least exposed to temptations, and the most capable of happiness and virtue.

Virtue is nobility; personal merit, useful, generous, benevolent exertion, the only honorable distinction. The trappings which every tailor can make to clothe a poor puny mortal, add no real dignity. In ages of ignorance they might strike with awe. Those ages are no more. Nor will they ever return, notwithstanding the efforts of petty despots to keep the people in ignorance.

God Almighty, who gives his sun to shine with as much warmth and radiance on the cottage as on the palace, hath dispensed the glorious privilege of genius and virtue to the poor and middle classes with a bounty, perhaps, seldom experienced in any of the proud pretenders to hereditary or official grandeur.

FOR THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

2d LETTER OF OMICRON.

I was just reclining in my easy chair, and deeply engaged in studying a most grave and pithy communication for the service of the readers of the Saturday Evening Post, when the host of " thick coming fancies" that were hovering over, and about to descend on me, were put to flight by the entrance of my man Simon, who deposited on my writing desk, with a very knowing look, a letter, that might almost have been called a package. Though vexed at the interruption, and grieved at the loss your readers must sustain by the suspension of my discourse on a highly interesting topic, I was nevertheless pleased to recognise the hand-writing of nephew Oscar, who has recently returned from a tour of several years through various parts of Europe. As I shall have occasion hereafter to speak of this personage, (for, to let you into a secret, I am somewhat fond of the young rogue,) I shall, to save trouble, introduce him to your acquaintance, before showing you his letter.

Oscar Omicron, now about three-and-twenty, is tall, dark haired, and bright eyed, with a fine sun-burnt, strong-featured, manly face. For his disposition, he is frank, gay, generous, and as full of whim, mirth and frolic, as an unbroken colt, or a kitten of six weeks old-the whole of which disposition he inherits from his mother, one of the most delightful little Irishwomen that ever lived. Oscar's father (my dear lost Authur!) was a great disciplinarian, and, in addition to having him well taught at home, sent him to spend three years at Leyden, under the charge of an old friend, Dr. VERBEEK, as he said, with a view of mind. For my own part, I am half sure that Oscar did not spend all the time in the

though he is frequently carried too far by his

trees but such as are cultivated; no stones but such as are imported, and no hills but mole and ant hills. You cannot sympathise with me, but our joltings and jumblings, with thumps and thunderings over the most uncivilized and unsubdued stones, stumps, rocks, hills and hollows, exceeded every thing that has been imagined. It was ten-fold more afflicting to me, because, instead of being on the look-out for brilliant specimens, like my friend KLAAS, (which is Dutch short-hand for ninisters, especially in the early stages of their Nicholas) I felt mightily inclined to be poetilow the advice of Cromwell to his soldiers, fortable seat in the great Freckschuyt, (tell the heads of our hearers, we shall do no exception. By pointing our arguments low, we stand a chance of hitting their hearts as well as of mine will account for my silence, as I was wearing a red wig with a long queue, a curitheir heads. In addressing angels we could too stiff, bruised and battered, to do any hardly raise our eloquence too high; but we thing. I dare say, I looked very much like must remember that men are not angels .- | what the first for our landlord's daughter stared Would we warm them by our eloquence, unlike at me in an unaccountable manner, whenever Mahomet's mountain, it must come down to she came into the room. I have been very them, since they cannot raise themselves to much amused with KLAAS, who has never beit. It must come down to their wants and fore been out of his own country. He is by wishes-to their hopes and their fears-to education and habit a philosopher, and is always for seeing all sides of an object he examines; nevertheless, he is perpetually puzzled when he finds men and things so very different from what he expected. It cost me a great deal of trouble to make him compreend how a fat, good looking, home-spun. dressed gentleman could be Governor of such a state as Connecticut, as he had neither retinue, equipage, bag wig, cocked hat, nor even a gold-headed cane. He was equally startled when I told him we were crossing the line that separated Connecticut from New Hampshire, and he ruefully observed that we had forgotten to procure passports. How he rolled s great black eyes, when I informed him that he might go through one and all of our states, without asking any one's leave, provided always that he had permission from the tavern-keepers and steam-boat captains so to lo; and his wonder reached to absolute incredulity, when he was told, in plain English, (or rather, as was the fact, in plain Dutch,) that if he paid his bills, no one would know or care who or what he was, whence he came, or whither he was going. KLAAS is a great lover of liberty, beer, and tobacco; an enthusiastic admirer of quiet living and his native language. It will be a glorious treat to set him to spouting Geisbrach vox amstel, for the amusement of aunt Barbara, who, you know, holds the Low-Dutch in such utter abomination, that she declares it tortures her as much return to the great city, I have been in conmy note book. Yet I was told in Europe, that CHARLES MATTHEWS could find nothing original here. Between ourselves, unde, I believe that Matthews' talent was not for this studyhe can imitate, caricatore, or embody abstract ideas of ridiculous peculiarities better than any other. Tones of voice, gesture, mode of expression, he could give inimitably, but he neither had skill to pick out the truth of original character, when not ridiculous, nor could be appreciate the difference between accidental and natural peculiarities, as modifiers of the style and conduct of an individual. The specimens he is now giving at the English opera house, are about as fair representations of American character, as the gross, low-lived, blackguard St. Gilesmen, shown by him here, were fair samples of the English.

> Now, to conclude, KLAAS and your humble servant will join you speedily, and shall hope to find you as merry as heretofore. O. O." romised me a sight of his note book, from which I shall hope to obtain something of great interest for the readers of my papers. unt Barbara has determined to be as little prejudiced against KLAAS as the nature of the case will allow, and has sent to the Peppers' Brewery for a cask of their special mild and strong, for his use. In the expectation of soon having their company, I must bid you, for the present, farewell.

TOR THE SATURDAY EVENING POST. DESULTORY SHEETS-No. III.

Let others at invention sim,
And week by falsities for fame—
Our story wants not, at this time,
Flounces and furbelows in rhyme;
Relate plain facts.

In a remote part of New England, but little explored by prying travellers, there stood, to bring him to a moderate and equal temper | and very probably stands yet, a small village, which nevertheless was of considerable importance in that section of the country, being to University, as he speaks of a very numerous all intents and purposes a very great place on acquaintance among the Hollanders, especially of the fair sex. What is rather more singular, for a youth of his mercurial disposition, he acquired a real fondness for the Dutch, and gabbles their language to the great annoyance of his aunt Barbara, who, having learned to conjugate Italian verbs at a for man, being a loquacious as well as a greboarding school, is quite horrified at the full- garious animal, a point of assemblage where mouthed spattering of the Belgic tongue.

Oscar's learning, though by no means inconsiderable, has never been heavy enough to overcome the wonderful clasticity of his ly cherished than the village tavern; that, in mirthful humour. His conduct is such as to this respect, resembles one of those blasted endear him to all, yet his gaiety is occasion- oaks we so often see standing lonely in the ally so full of mischief, as to frighten very midst of a field, which is visited by every moderate people out of his reach. Like all passing bird, whilst, located on its bleached others of similar temperament, he is subject limbs, we sometimes observe a flock of garto moments of gloom, the more remarkable rulous crows, whose continued noise presses for their rarity, and the striking contrast they the smilitude more strongly on our mind. The make with his usual manner; and then he is tavern in the village of which we speak, the most superlatively sad and sombre fellow owed much of its prosperity to the circumin Christendom. His habits and sentiments stance of the stage stopping there twice a are of the most correct and excellent kind, week, ere it arrived at its place of destination, giving the passengers time to take a great love of fun, his greatest delight being to seek and sketch "characters" from the life. His sketches are sometimes amusing and great love of fun, his greatest delight being to seek and sketch "characters" from the life. His sketches are sometimes amusing and instructive, though occasionally he indulges in structive, though occasionally he indulges in the head of the table, some "interesting" places, though leaven for it was observed by some, who had other specially graced the head of the table, Jehu was learn forefeard that I should shortly be obliged to repeat my ourneys. My old class-mate and febu traveller, Kraas Rossrssook, (tell aunth Barbara not to turn up her nose at his name, as tis pronounced Rosenboune, and means Rosetree in English), has been taken with an unaccountable notion of studying mineralogy; and so, bundling our tranks and persons into a Jersey wagon, or Dear-borne, with hammers, chissels, and heaven knows what other implements, we set out for tile was our ferror not formed residence. You have his residence as a boarder." In vain " mine host" equivocated-in vain did he speak of fied, and at length, however unwillingly, he was forced to point him the way to Dame Griggs', where the wanderer was soon housously cat black satin coat, a pair of well worn breeches of an equivocal color, and having his legs eased in boots that were very narrow. and reached far above his knees. When he arrived at Dame Griggs' dwelling, he was received with all due courtesy by the old lady, who was exceedingly assiduous in her attentions to the lodger, no doubt regarding him very much in the light of a wind-fall. When the stranger was shown to his room, the good lady saw no more of him till the next morning, for, on entering, he locked the door, and declined her invitation to tea through the key-hoe, at which she was not a little vexed. for she had made "all smart" in honor of his arrival. When he came down to breakfast in the morning, she cast an eye of great complacency on him, for, in spite of his red wig and odd dress, the stranger was not a bad looking man, at least so said the dame to herself, and at the same moment tried to ed, his door was locked. Alack-a-day, thought time came, but the stranger was not returned; the dinner was delayed, but he came to hear it as a fit of the cholic. Since our not. Dame Griggs grew uneasy - "if he had return to the great city, I have been in con- wandered into the creek;" but the creek tinued rapture-such crowds of "character;" was shallow, and the gentleman tall, so she length her lodger was seen appro

It gives me much pleasure that Oscar has but be that as it may, she held her tongue, he went to bed. The next afternoon, when they surprised, when to their inquiries of who propagated the account so well, that before he was, what did he do, was he married or > day a report, highly unfavourable to the subtain it is, there was a mystery hanging about manœuvres of pulling up his breeches, stretching his legs, and placing his baggage together, he walked into the house, and inquired was the consequence, and at that moment of the landford if he knew any "respectable the lodger returned. But the dame could not amicable dame with whom he could take up rest till she had imparted her discovery to Mrs. Stibbs-and Mrs. Stibbs told Mrs. Vates. and Mrs. Yates told Mrs. Smith, and she told his own clever rooms and snug accommoda- all the rest of her gossipping acquaintance, tions. The stranger was not to be so satis- amounting to seven, and these were all the mentation far above the reach of their hearers, the following excellent sentiment, from Colton's Lacon may be highly beneficial.

cal, and while opening my mouth to give ed, together with his baggage, consisting of a little trunk, a big one, and a carpet baging scenery, my teeth were nearly knocked ton's Lacon may be highly beneficial. nothing, however, resulted from this expedition, except that the examiners, on their return, stopping at the tavern to talk of it, all got drunk, and on their reaching their homes, each received a severe curtain lecture from his rib. I will merely mention, for the credit of the place, that, besides being its active and efficient men, who rendered every body's business their's, and in some degree supplied the places of lawyers, constables and newspapers, these were the only men in the village who got intoxicated, or quarrelled with their neighbours-a coincidence of habits and functions that I have observed in other places. Now was our hero regarded by all the sage folk of the village as lotle better than a sorcerer or a vampire—the children were cautioned to take care of him, and no one would trust himself within his reach. Dame Griggs held private meetings with some of her counsellors, to debate the propriety of still keeping him in her house, but a ten dollar note was no trifling consideration to her, and the excellent tea it had brought from the next town so biassed her friends in favour of mild proceedings, that they unanimously agreed not to decide until further investigation, a series of which the dame was resolved to carry on; so, that night, when all was silent in the lodger's room, hav-

trepidation, whilst the majority of the men devil or the stranger either. But it was other-female trio that we have already spoken of appeared to be treasuring up a deluge of rain, which would render any attempt from withnued habits of good eating and drinking, placed any movements up the ladder entirely out of her power; however, the dame was for their design. Pleased with the idea, after concerting all matters, she hurried home, and commenced clearing away the old rubbish

fancy she was only forty, but it would not do, and she sat down with the double intention of giving him his coffee and finding out his name, for as yet she did not know it, nor was she any wiser when the meal was finished, for the lodger preserved a mysterious silence all the time, and then seizing his hat, ing sufficiently elevated her courage to gaze strided forth in a most sententious style, leaving his hostess quite astounded that all her outside of her dwelling, and having silently cross-questions, guessing and reckoning had placed a ladder beneath the window, she not succeeded better. By the time he was fairly out of sight, the breakfast utens is were mounted, hoping to have a view of the intedisposed of, and the next thing was to make rior through some fissure or chink, (for the his bed; but here she was again disappointmanner,) and she was not disappointed. The she, but some folks are very particular—and she hied off to her other drudgery. Dinner flickering gleams of the dying fire, which jewels, absolute jewels, have I found, and consoled herself on that score: however, at you may promise yourself a full harvest from length her lodger was seen approaching the Her knees struck together with affright, for manner. But, I would ask him, who were house, and, to her great surprise; lugging a large stone along with him; she flew to the door, and almosted him, pushing and blowing under the weight of his load.—"Bless me," in white, which was undoubtedly, she concluded, his familiar spirit, and before which he now appeared like a slave before his massiant the farthest corner of the room, as though the were they endisciplined however they end t house, and, to her great surprise, lugging a ed the lodger, as he ascended to his room. "God help us!" nid the dame. When evening came, she attended as in to get at his appellation, but she was again unsuccessful, for he handed her a ten dollar note, and told her not to give herself any trouble on his account, but when he had staid with her to the amount of that sum, to remind him of it-"and as to my bed," which the dame had told him she wished to make, "I'll do that myself, and would like you to understand, Mrs. Griggs, that I wish no one to enter my room." That this speech only caused more surprise and curiosity to enter the breast of Mrs. Griggs, the reader can well imagine; and put the note into her strong box. That night she heard a strange whistling noise in the room of her lodger, and it was long ere single, rich or poor, whence did he come, that ever racked the ear of mortal man was where was he going, what were his intentions, &c. &c. she replied that she did not even know his name! Not know his name! How so? And then she recited all the con- seemed not to care three straws about the versation she had had with him since his arrival; whereupon all the assembly put on looks of singular knowledge and mystery. which the minority, which consisted of the three worthies before mentioned; for looks of singular knowledge and mystery. At length said Mrs. Stibbs, "It's very strange." "I never heard a stranger thing woman in the place, adjourned nem. con. to the tavern, for the purpose of further considering the question. The dame and her friends were not idle; so it was agreed that in all my born days," responded her neighbour Yates. "Tis the strangest thing in nater," finished Mrs. Smith. "1 can see no good," continued the first. "It can be for night the lodger should be watched by the no good," said the second. "There must dom hides his name without good reasons," observed the leader of the talkative trio. "That's very true," replied another; "I out exceedingly disagreeable; besides that, remember, in the year '95, a counterfeiter"— an extraordinary rotundity of figure in the "Aye, and we all remember, the man who case of Mrs. Stibbs, acquired by long conti-"Aye, and we all remember, the man who killed Ebenezer Grey refused to tell," interposed the third. But, at this moment, in walked the lodger, and interrupted the chain not to be foiled; she remembered that for-merly a step-ladder had passed from her

of information, bearing under his arm a well bleached horse's skull, to the no small disject of it, was extant in the village; and certhe stranger, well calculated to excite curi-onity—he sought communication with none; on the contrary, he seemed anxiously to avoid it, and in the rambles which he took every day through the surrounding country, he never approached a house, and scemed to those by whom he was casually seen, a being spending some time in the consumption of a never been in Holland, where there are no | tents. After having performed the important | skull lying on the table, its white teeth closed | the stranger. Mrs. Stibbs had waited till now in silent anxiety, but she could do so no longer. "Is it there," said she; " do let nie look"-and gently thrusting Mrs. Yates from her situation, she placed her ponderous body on the door, and in an instant was precipitaed down into our hero's bed, by reason of the old ledge, which supported the door, giving way! Then, indeed, did a strange noise re-echo through the house; it was composed of the dull sound given forth when Mr. Stibbs reached the floor, the crash of the bedstead, the apalling shrick of the faller, and the wild exclamations of the lodger, whe, springing forth in a paroxyam of affright clothed only in his internal garment of linen, ton's Lacon may be highly beneficial.

"In addressing the multitude, we must follow the advice of Cromwell to his soldiers, "Fire row." This is the great art of the methodists. If our eloquence be directed above the discovery will make sad work of it,) on the Leyden in all points like the leader had never before with the small trunk under the stunk had been added the two latter being conveyed by a troop of number, and complete trunks had been added to the almost paralyzed and the next day some of the busy men of the place, at the instigation of their wives, whilst our hero marched before with the small trunk under the stunk had been added to the almost paralyzed to them; in short, it was a hideous story, fortable seat in the great Freckschuyt, (tell aunt to sound this word Freckschuit, or she the place, at the instigation of their wives, will make sad work of it,) on the Leyden in all points like the leader had never before walked out to the burial ground to see if none of the graves had been disturbed ed to fly; the left hand of his unfortunate visitor grasped, with the firmness of desporation, the nether portion of his quaint covering, and in this position he bore no small resemblance to the figure of the far-famed Knight of La Mancha, when doing penance in the woods. The worthy knight, however, would never have turned the same portion of his body to any distressed fair one, as did our

Next morning, the stage arrived in the village. With some difficulty the stranger procured his baggage to be taken to the tavern. As he passed along, the streets were cleared for him; the dogs were all whistled to the door, and the children were called in. When he had got to the stage, every house poured forth its inmates; old and young twoped out to witness his departure—which he soon accomplished in a most ordinary manner, having first blowed his nose and taken a large pinch of snuff. From that time forward, Mrs. Stibbs walked lame, Dame Griggs' house was observed to be haunted, the villagers were noted for telling abominable long stories, and no good was ever said of the Stranger.

FOR THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

GENTLEMEN-I perfectly agree with the Desultory Reader," in your last Post, that 'a temperate native pride is at all times laudable," and hope it will be cherished at a skull with apathy, she proceeded to the amongst us; but I must confess there is a passage in the first part of his communication, that excited considerable astonishment : it is this-" The numerous legions of Casar, and other successful Cuptoins amongst the Romans, key-hole had been secured in a suspicious and other civilized ancient countries, were led against undisciplined hordes of barbarians. only light by which she could see, was the unskilled in the art of war, and could only fail of being victorious through absolute cowthrew a red glare around the room, alternate- ardice or inertness;" and afterwards he says, brightening and leaving it in deep shade. "here was no science, no skill," &c. These here was, however, light enough to enable are sweeping clauses, and may be denied in her to distinguish a tall figure scated before the fire, with its back towards her, being en-written; the wars amongst the Gauls and the her lodger was also visible; he was seated in the belligerent powers in the three Punic a moment longer on his red wig, only to conscience in maintaining a war for so many trast more forcibly with the gloom of his years, in a remote country, when his enemies black velvet cloak; but his countenance! the were so busy in Carthage? How did Fabius acquire the appellation of the "shield of Rome?" And how happened it that Philip, presence of the figure had destroyed its remarkable traces, and it no longer was an object to be regarded without horror; at least of Macedon, with thirty thousand men, acsuch was the conclusion of the dame: a mo- complished what Xerxes and his millions ment's glance had sufficed to show her all were unable to do? Or, can we reconcile the actions of Gylippus, of Agesilaus, of Epathis; she looked not again, for she had seen enough. The idea that her eyes had beheld minondas, of Datames, of Timoleon, with a want of skill? Or how think, that science a wandering spirit of another world, filled her breast with horror, and she descended the was wanting, when Memnon held out Hali; ladder with more precipitation than she had carnassus-Demetrius besieged Rhodes-or mounted it. That night sleep did not visit the great Archimedes defended Syracuse her troubled eye-lids; her thoughts ran on Or has the admiration of Antony, when he roaming ghosts and yawning graves; many a exclaimed, "O! the retreat of the ten thoutale of wonder and mystery crossed her mind, sand," been realized in every succeeding and often did she shrink in horror as she age, merely on account of "the persevering personal bravery" of Xenophon, and his gal-lant band. I cannot think so; and therefore thought the figure in white flitted through the gloom. At length, when the shrill cock the stranger was away, all the good dames of awakened the village, she left her restless I dissent from the "Reader's" opinion. I the village came to pay a visit to his landla-dy, and find out all about him. But how were mind to her dear friend, Mrs. Stibbs, and she ject at present. There is, however, a line ject at present. There is, however, a line from Cato, which I recommend to your dinner time one of the most horrid stories correspondent's attention, when taking his "notes:" it is this-" Legere et non intelliafloat in the village. The women ran from gere, negligere est." house to house, and dwelt on it in breathless

From a Sketches of the History, Manners, and Customs of the North American Indians." By James Buchanan, Esq. British Consul, N. Y.

The following is Mr. Buchanan's account of his visit to Miss Brant, daughter of the Mohawk Chief. Mr. B. and his daughters had got from Mrs. Colonel Clarke, at the falls of Ningara, an introduction to the Mohawk princes. Miss Brant."*

"On arriving at the magnificent shores of lake Ontario, the driver of our carriage pointbe some evil," said the third. "I've my sus-picions," nodded Dame Griggs. "A man sel-complished was the next question. The sky of Miss Brant, which had a very noble and commanding aspect; and we anticipated much pleasure in our visit; as, beside the enjoyment of so beautiful a spot, we should be enabled to form a competent idea of Canadian manners and style of living. Young Mr. Brant, it appeared, unaware that with our carriage we could have reached his house so soon, had not arrived before us; so that our approach was not announced; and we drove up to the door with the expectation that the family would be commuter of the assembly, the members of which did not go to their homes without having made a considerable exertion of their guessing and creative powers; and the next day a report, highly unforcement of the steps were gone, but the door still remained, and here she was sure they could find some chinks large enough in proceeded into the country of the steps were gone, but the leading to a spacious hall, was open. We entered, and remained a few minutes, when seeding no person about, we proceeded into the ing no person about, we proceeded into the parlour, which, like the hall, had nobody in t. We therefore had an opportunity of looking about us at our leisure. It was a room well furnished with a carpet, pier and chimney glasses, mahogany tables, fashionable chairs, a guitar, a neat hanging book case, in which, among other volumes, we perceived a church of England prayer book, translated into the Mohawk tongue and several small clemen-tary works. " Having sent in our note of intro-thence, flowed on her shoulders. Under a walking Dress.—A pelisse of gros de Na tunic or morning dress, of black silk, was a ples, the beautiful colour of the beet-root. petticoat of the same material and colour, which elegantly ornamented with the valuable fur reached very little below the knees. Her silk of the lynx, in the most unique and truly no stockings and kid shoes were, like the rest of vel manner: the fur is not only displayed like her dress, black. The grace and dignity of the rouleaux of gros de Naples that divide it her movement, the style of her dress and manner, so new, so unexpected, filled us all with astonishment. With great ease, yet by no and surrounded by stalks formed of narrow means in that common place mode so generally prevalent on such occasions, she inquired low we had found the road, accommodations, &c. No flutter was at all apparent on account of the delay in getting breakfast; no fidgeting and fussmaking, no running in and out; no idle expressions of regret—such as 'Oh dear me! had I known of your coming, you would not have been kept in this way; but with perfect ease, she maintained the conversation, until a squaw, wearing a man's hat, brought in a tray with preparations for breakfast. A table cloth of fine white damask being laid, we were rewater and ice coolers, eggs, smoked beef, and ham, boiled chickens, &c. all served up in truly pelisse is lined throughout with rich white galed with tea, coffee, hot rolls, butter in neat and comfortable style.

The delay, we afterwards discovered, aros from the desire of our hostess to supply us with hot rolls, which were actually baked while we waited. I have been thus minute in my description of these comforts as they were so little to be expected in the house of an Indian. " After breakfast, Miss Brant, as we must still call her, took my daughters out to walk, and look at the picturesque scenery of the country. She and her brother had previously expressed a hope that we would stay all day; but though I wished of all things to do so, and had determined in the event of a pressing invitation, to accept it, yet I declined the proposal at first, and thus forfeited a pleasure which we all of us longed in our hearts to enjoy; for as I have afterwards learned, it is not the custom of an uncorrupted Indian to repeat a request if once rejected,"

EUROPEAN AFFAIRS.

From late English papers received at New-York.

The Courier of the 8th, contains Paris dates of the 5th. The Journal des Debats, the Journal des Paris, the Quotidienne, and the Etoile, contain conflicting statements respecting the evacuation of Spain by the French troops. The last of these journals maintains be carried into effect; while the former assert the contrary, on the strength of letters from Madrid of Nov 28. These letters state, that the evacuation which had commenced, was suddenly suspended on the arrival of the courier with a new treaty, according to which France consents that 10,000 men, together with the garrison of Santonia and Saragossa, shall remain

Six of the wretches who were concerned in the murder of the royal prisoners taken on board of a vessel at Corunna, on the 20th July, 1823, and after they got out to sea were stabbed and thrown overboard, have been exwere suspended from the gallows with the others.

The Royal College of Orleans, (France, presented, between the 24th and 25th of Nov. a seene of disorder never before witnessed there. About fifty of the pupils, at 12 o'clock at night, assaulted the premises of one of the professors-to escape their fury, he let himself his life, and the certainty of some bodily wounds. Before order was restored. litary was called in.

Constance, Nov. 14 .- This city and its noble Minister have been in the most imminent on the 11th at two in the morning, in the great building belonging to the Grand Duke at Stauf, and which is supposed to have been caused by design. The great edifice, in which there was a great quantity of corn and 130 tuns of wine, and the residence of Canon of Euzherg, were burnt to the ground. The Cathedral was saved by great exertions, but not without the destruction of two chapels, and damage to the amount of 20,000 florins. were on the spot.

The Sun of the evening of the 4th, announ ces the receipt of the Paris Etoile of the preceding day. The only political intelligence relates to the grief and alarm prevailing at Constantinople, occasioned by the late disasters of the Turks, in their contest with the Greeks, and the recent earthquakes that have desolated Syria.

The Northern Expedition .- Captain Lyon of his Majesty's ship Griper, arrived unexpect edly at the Admiralty on Thursday morning His return has been partly occasioned by hi having been unable to get into Repulse Bay, though he got off the entrance of Wager River. The Griper experienced the longest continuance of bad weather ever remembered by any during the whole voyage, and one of them was quarry of Mr. Robert P. Crosby, near Ches on Monday week. When within six hours' ter, was killed by the bursting of a rock. sail of Repulse Bay, a gale came on, which Mr. Hemphill's bill, providing that the was unequalled for severity in the Northern Seas. She has lost all her anchors, and her boats have been stove in. No lives have bee lost, although the erew have suffered dread fully. They heard of Captain Parry, who was at a great distance from them. The Griper was to have wintered in Repulse Bay, and to presentatives 93 to 82. have despatched, in the ensuing summer, an overland expedition, to endeavour to nicet Captain Parry.

Extract of a letter from France, dated Nov. 15. "The King continues to please; he can ment is also becoming more popular every day, and I think deservedly so.

The St. Domingo deputies were sent off some time since, but there is reason to believe this government will come to an understanding with the people of that Island be

"There has been a talk, of late, of the disadvantages of our convention with France, but I hope all will end in talk.

"I lately mentioned, that I thought it would be good policy to admit the low French wines free of duty. It would please on this side, and, what in effect would be of more consequence to us, furnish a substitute for spirits, of which our people drink too much."

LONDON FASHIONS FOR DECEMBER.

EVENING DRESS .- Dress of soft satin or veivet of celestial blue. The border beautifully trimmed with a rich rouleau, entwined with silver, cordon, in festoons, with blue ro- ly well. settes, from whence depend silver tags .-A straight rouleau, the same as the festoor trimming, surmounts the hem at the bottom of the skirt; corsage with the drapery formed a la Grecque, across the bust, and on each side—that across the bust fastened with a rosette in front, with silver tags, as is the point | throat, lung fever, &c. formed by the termination of the side drape-ries, just above the belt, of the same materials as the dress. The sleeves are short, and have a rosette on the outside of the arm, next the shoulder. Swedish mantle of violet co-loured satin, trimmed with white swan's down o ermine, and lined throughout with white swan's down ermine, or levantine. The head-dress, a Veronese togue of gauze and silver I ma, sail an ornament, placed obliquely, in f ont, of finely-wrought Ellagre silver. The togue surmounted with a plane of white feature of the building of the logue surmounted with a plane of white feature of the building of the logue surmounted with a plane of white feature of the building of the logue surmounted with a plane of white feature of the building of the logue surmounted with a plane of white feature of the country developing themselves.

The combustible part of the building of the logue surmounted with a plane of white feature of the country developing themselves.

in serpentine wavings, but also formed into beautiful sprigs of the Asiatic tree, supported rouleaux of the same material as the pelisse. A pelerine cape, trimmed with lynx fur, to correspond. The sleeves en gigot, in point of form, but of more moderate dimensions than on the first appearance of this fashion, and confined at the wrists with broad gold eastern bracelets. A belt of the same material as the pelisse, fastened in front with a gold buckle, wrought in the same pattern as ber. the Indian bars of gold at the wrist. A bonnet of the same colour and material as the pelisse, with fichu lappets, carelessly tied.-Large bows, intermingled with black, or very short black feathers playing among the bows, affety.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS .- The favourite colours are the rose of Japan, slate, vermillion, fire-colour, amber, and pink.

WEEKLY COMPENDIUM.

We are informed that the nett proceeds of the Ball, given by Mr. Labbe, on the 25th inst, to aid the funds of the Washington Monument, amounted to one hundred and sixteen dollars.

A gentleman purchased a year or two ago. at public sale at the Coffee House, a lot of ground in the vicinity of one of the coalnines, for twelve hundred dollars. After the sale it was discovered to contain a valuable bed of mineral, and the purchaser lately refused one hundred thousand dollars for the

The congregation of the Fifth Baptist Church, formerly under the care of the Rev Dr. Staughton, have chosen the Rev. John L Dagg, of Virginia, as their pastor.

It is rumored that Joseph Bonaparte has urchased the lot between Market and Chesout and Eleventh and Twelfth streets, and is about to erect on it a Mansion for his Family.

The managers of the Alms House, in con junction with the requisite number of Aldermen and justices of the peace, have agreed to levy the City and Liberties the sum of that the measure, as originally proposed, will $120,000 as a poor tax for the ensuing year. The sum assessed, last year, was $130,000. The Southwark Bank Bill has passed the House of Representatives of this State. FIRES .- A fire occurred vesterday afteron, about two o'clock, in a brick stable, si mate in Elfreth's alley. The roof and a quantity of hay and straw were consumed. activity of our firemen prevented the contiguous buildings from taking fire.

About ten o'clock on Saturday forenoon, o last week, the end of the roof of the Fish Market next to the Delaware, was discovered to be on fire. An alarm was given, and the flames extinguished. The roof is consideraecuted at that city. Three committed suicide | bly damaged. It is conjectured that the fire before the day of execution; but their bodies was communicated by sparks from the chim nev of one of the steam boats.

The Wood-Corder's Office, on Almond Street Wharf, owned by Mr. S. Black, was destroved by fire about one o'clock on Wedneslay morning.

On Tuesday evening, about 9 o'clock, some rillain thrust his hand through a pane of glass, in a watch makers' window in Third street down from an upper window, at the risk of above Vine, while the owner, Mr. Baker, was engaged upon some work, seized a watch and hade his escape

A petition of the Pawnbrokers, of this city, against the passage of the bill to incorporate the Lombard Association, (on the 20th inst.) danger from a dreadful fire, which broke out and of the Huntingdon, Cambria and Indiana Turnpike Road Compony, approving of the ontemplated connection of the eastern and vestern waters, by the Juniata River, (on the 22d) have been presented to the Legislature of this State.

The jury in the case of A. Gever vs. C Wickerly, brought into the district court, last week, a verdict for the plaintiff-damages $800. The ground of action was, that the de fendant refused to receive the plaintiff's vot Twenty-two Swiss and 12 Buda fire-engines in an election for officers of the German Lutheran Society's Church, in Fourth street. Washington Labbe has been tried at Chester, for being concerned in the murder of Mr. Bonsall. The Jury brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree." The court sentenced the prisoner to eight years confinement in the Penitentiary.

A woman named Catharine Plain, on her way from this city to Wilmington, on Wednesday week, at mid-day, about a mile from Naaman's creek, was assaulted and ribbed of a bundle of clothes, and 66 dollars in money. The highwayman is described as being six feet high, dark complexion, large black whiskers; had on brown pantaloons and a blue coat, very much torn under the arms. On Saturday last, John Cochran, a native seaman on board. She had but five fair days of Ireland, one of the men employed in the

Mr. Hemphill's bill, providing that the U S. subscribe $300,000 to the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal, passed the House of Re presentatives, 96, to 84. The bill extending the Cumberland road to

Zanesville, after anargumentative and eloquent speech by Mr. Clay, passed the House of Re-General John STRICKER has been appointed

Major General of the Third Division of the Militia of Maryland, in place of General R. G. Harper, deceased. A bill now before the legislature of Massachusetts, proposes that adult paupers shall in fire at Savannah, on the night of the 11th in ride, and that is a great deal. His govern- no case receive more than 75 cents per week, and children 45 cents. Dennis M'Carty, of Loudon county, (Va.)

charged with the murder of his brother-inlaw, Capt. Beaty, has been apprehended and committed to jail.

The Register (Treasury department) has discovered, that in his estimates for the ensuing year, the trifling sum of one million dollars, was accidentally omitted. It is fortunately on the favorable side, being an overcalculation of the appropriations necessary for 1825.

Snow fell to the depth of six inches, or Sunday last, at Alexandria.

Commodore Rodgers, who goes out to the Mediterranean in the North Carolina, has arrived at Washington, on a visit of a few days, previously to his departure. The North Caroina was left about 75 miles below Washington, lest she might be injured by the ice, if she ascended the Potomac too far. The ship is of a beautiful model, and works exceeding-

The inhabitants of Stonington (Con.) have been afflicted for a few weeks past, with disease which has proved fatal to many after a very short illness. In some cases persons have died in forty-eight hours after the attack. The disease is called putrid, sore

When canals shall be put in successful operation, (remarks the Boston Palladium,)

Albion K. Parris received 19,759. three men can do in the same time, in the usual mode of drilling. The machine is said to be exceedingly simple, and may be put in operation by less power than is necessary to turn a common grind-stone, and is done in a similar manner.

Messrs. Stanley, Wortley, Dennison and Hardesly, members of the British parliament, arrived at New Orleans on the 24th of Decem-

A lot of beeswax, in handsome cakes, said to be 69 pounds, was offered for sale a few weeks ago in Nashville, which on examination was found to contain 42 pounds of stone! a quantity of stones was recently found in a large lot at New Orleans, which was shipped from Favetteville, Tenn. Two large lemons on a twig, one of which measures 131 inches in circumference, have been presented by Mr. T. Edmonson of Harlem, to the Editor of the Baltimore American Farmer. The tree on which they grew is about A years old.

Serjt. John Gowan, of the U. S. army w lately drowned at Castle Pinckney (S. C.) by the upsetting of a batteau. His wife and chile was at a short distance when the accident happened.

A proposition is made in the Boston Centinel to continue the New-York canal to Boston harbor.

royalists were in possession of Lima on the 18th of September. By advices to the 22d ult. from Carthagena we learn, that accounts had been received there, by way of Panama, stating the junction of all the reinforcements from Colombia with Bolivar, who was pursuing a victorious career. The inspections at Baltimore of flour, beef, oork, &c. during the year 1824, exceeded that of the preceding, 100,000 barrels-a decided proof of the growing prosperity of that city. The Legislature of New Hampshire, at their last session, passed a law, providing that illegitimate children shall be the heirs of their mother, she dying without leaving legitimate issue; and in case of the decease of such child or children in the life time of the mother, leaving legitimate issue such issue shall inherit the share of such child or children so deceas-

It has been decided, by the verdict of a jury, after two days investigation, that Mr. Noah has a legal right to the lease of the office in which his paper, the New-York National Advocate, is now published.

A letter from Key West, of the 1st inst. says "There are now here the U. S. corvette John Adams, com. Porter, to sail in a few days; U. S. schr. Terrier, to sail in a day or two; British gov't schr. Lion, do. and French ship Calypso, recaptured from the pirates."

The telegraph establishment of New York becoming daily more and more useful .-There are now on its register 264 vessels. whose letters are painted on their sails in characters so large that they can be seen at a great distance-so that in clear weather vessels are announced as soon as they appear in the offing; and when spoken at sea, their letters are noticed, by which means news of them daily reaches the city.

The number of convicts in the Connecticut State Prison, is 111; a great portion of them ping mill has lately been put in operation. The navigation of the Ohio continued us obstructed on the 15th inst.

We understand that it is the intention of Gen. La Fayette to appropriate $80,000 to the liquidation of claims on him in France, and that he intends to reserve the lands given to him as a bequest to his children.

The select committee in the New York Le rislature, on the Right of Suffrage, have reported an amendment to the constitution of New York, authorizing all white citizens aged 21, to vote, after one year's residence in the state, and six months' residence in the county; and all blacks to vote who possess a freehold of the value of $250.

The thermometer, at Augusta, (Me.) on the 8th inst. was 22 degrees below 0. Wm. Russell, (advertised in many of the newspapers for having defrauded sundry persons in Baltimore) it is now ascertained, took his passage in the ship Cortes, which sailed from New York on the 9th inst. Previously to his departure, he purchased a bill of exchange for £1400 sterling in the latter city. The valuable flour mills at Desoris (L. I.)

owned by John B. Coles, Esq. were totally destroyed on Friday morning last -about 10,000 bushels of wheat were also burnt. The property was insured in New York to the mount of $20,000.

Four buildings in Broad street, Newark, N. J. were destroyed by fire on Monday mornng last, one of which was occupied as a dry goods store, and another as a printing office. A sleigh race for one hundred pounds was run from St. John's, N. B. to Frederickton, which was done by a pair of horses with a sleigh and and two persons, in 6 hours and 32 minutes, the distance computed at 87 miles. One of the horses of the beaten par-

y gave out near the end and died. Miss Edgeworth has a new work in the press, entitled "Mutual Instruction:" the object of which is to excite a taste for science, and put youth in possession of its prin-

Ten wooden buildings were destroyed by

Mr. Stewart, member of Congress from Pennsylvania, who spoke in favor of the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal, mentioned, in his speech, that in the whole nine States of the West there were but two votes against the bill. Mrs. Susannah Miller, widow of the lat Mr. John Miller, of Providence (R. 1.) has completed her one hundredth year. She is believed to be the oldest person now living in that town, and what is more singular, she is health at the time of her sailing, and that daily receiving the attentions of her dutiful there was a great want of harmony among the daughter, Mrs. Experience Barney (rightly named) now in the eightieth year of her age.

The bill for the suppression of piracy is ow undergoing, in the Senate of the United States, a serious deliberation, corresponding with the great importance of the subject. The speech of Mr. Tazewell, of Virginia, in favour of his motion to strike out the third section of the bill, is said to have been a masterly display of talent and eloquence.

The law altering the time of meeting of the Legislature of Maryland, to the last, instead of the 1st Monday in Dec. has finally passed and become a part of the constitution of the state. The Legislature of Alabama has passed a manimous vote of thanks to Mr. Monroe, for the faithful discharge of his duty as President of the United States.

dent to the Schate, for appointment as Lieuts. A lad in Caroline county, Maryland, in a assion, plunged a knife into the heart of one of his mother's slaves, and put an instant end with a knife, which proved fatal.

The Boston memorial to Congress upon this subject concludes in the following strong tume. Her hair was confined on the head in a silk net, but the lower tresses, escaping from thence, flowed on her shoulders. Under a Walking Dress.—A pelisse of gros de Native of grosses of grosses of grosses of grosses. its operations in another building.

The whole number of votes taken in the State of Maine, at the recent election of Governor of that state, was 20,419, of which ING A FORCIBLE POSSESSION OF ITS TERRITORY." The Committee on Public Buildings of the A machine for drilling rock has been invent-ed by Cyrus Alden, of Roxbury, Mass. by which a boy may drill as much in one day as were expended last year on the centre building of the capitol.

A lady by the name of Pirrs, who lately died in Virginia, left all her slaves free, on condition of their going to Africa, and also provided her executors with the means of ransporting them thither. The belief has often been inculcated that, whenever an unobjectionable outlet is provided for the black population of the country, it will gradually Hiram Davenport a lad of 16 years, in Wiliamson, N. Y. after being missed 10 days. was found suspended by a strip of elm bark on a tree near his home. No reason could be assigned for this extraordinary act.

The Legislature of Rhode Island, on Saturday last, adjourned to the first week in May. After a long debate on the expediency of granting any more bank charters, the subject was postponed to the next session by a vote of 49 tech:

The first Monthly packet from England ar rived at Laguayra on the 4th of December, The Brazilian government have sequestered the Portuguese property in that country, were on board, but were saved by a boat which in retaliation for a large amount of unrepaired was at a short distance when the accident hapguese. The Thermometer at Augusta, Maine, on the morning of the 6th inst. at sunrise, accord ing to a statement in the Kennebec Journal, Letters received in this city, state that the was at 22 degress below 0. The Rev. Willard Preston, formerly of Providence, (R. I-) and a graduate of Brown University, has been unanimously elected President of the University of Vermont-located in Burlington. The Treasurer of the American Bible Society has acknowledged the receipt of $3590 6, for the month of December. Among the items we observe a donation of twenty-five cents from "A Printer's Boy," in Huntsville, Alabama. The issues duringthe same period were, 2813 bibles, and 2905 testaments, valued at $3194 43. At the last court in Steuben county, (N. Y.) D. Douglas was tried for murder and found guilty; but his sentence was suspended for the decision of the Supreme Court. His wife was tried as an accomplice, and acquitted.-The trial of the father was postponed for ma terial witnesses. At Westbrook, R. I. on the 7th, four strangers, a man, woman and two boys, one supposed to be about 16 and the other 6 years of age, passed through the town, stating that hey were on their way to Ohio. On the 15th, the woman and youngest boy were found dead on Barber's hill. It was supposed they had kindled a fire there for the purpose of tarrying all night, and unfortunately perished with the cold.

General LA FAYETTE, attended by his sor and Secretary, arrived at Richmond, Virginia, on Saturday, and was officially received by the legislature of that state on Monday. His health was improved.

The London New Monthly Magazine for December, has been received at New-York. Two brigs had lately carried into Martinique x hundred African slaves. The legislature of Maryland have re-elected

EDWARD LLOYD, Esq. a senator of the United A fire broke out in Columbia, (S. C.) on the 15th inst, which consumed nearly a square. Among the sufferers named are Messrs. Snowden, Black and Hattier.

The public are cautioned against being im posed on by Five Dollar counterfeit notes on the Jersey Bank, payable to E. E. Boudinot, at the Ontario Bank, dated Nov. 12th 1822, signed S. St. John, President, and J. Kissam, Cashier. The vignette is coarse, the filling up bad, and the signatures clumsy imitations The paper is of a smoother and more silky texture than the genuine notes.

We perceive, by the gleanings from English papers, that a man by the name of Samuel Burt, convicted and sentenced to die for forgery, twice refused to receive the royal pardon, intimating the justice of his conlemnation, and his determination to die by his own hands, if he could not be made the public victim of his crimes. On the third time, however, of his being brought up, he expressed his wishes not only to be pardoned, but also to be married. He stated, that his despair of this alliance had induced him to perpetrate the offence. The young woman agreed to the marriage, but died before it could take place. Whether the criminal now wishes his majesty to revoke his pardon again, we are not informed.

A curious fact is mentioned by a correspondent of the editor of the American Farmer, in Tenessee, to whom he appears to have written for information as to the law of that state in relation to taxing dogs, and protecting sheep. A Mr. Cockrill, near Nash-ville, tells him that ten or twelve of his neighbours, residing not more than two and an half miles from him, had lost within two or three years past, BY Doos, about six hundred sheep!

The bill to abolish imprisonment for debt has been rejected in the Senate of the United States by a majority of three votes. The Washington Journal says, that five members who were in favour of the bill, were absent when the vote was taken. Notwithstanding the rejection of this bill, we have no doubt a similar one will receive the sanction of Congress, at some future period, as we understand it is the intention of the gentleman who has called the attention of Congress to the sub ject, to bring it up again at the next session.

The ship Mohawk, arrived at Baltimore, in 45 days from Gibraltar, reports having left the U. S. frigate Constitution and sloop of war Cyane at that place, the former in 25 days passage from New York. We regret to learn, that Com. M'Donough was in very low health at the time of her sailing, and that officers of the squadron on that station. Midshipman Kerr (or Carr) had fallen in a duel, but with whom he had the encounter, we have not learned, or any other particulars relative to the unhappy affair.

An interesting table has been communicat ed to Congress by the Post Master General, showing the extent of the post roads, the amount of postages collected, and the expenses of managing the concerns of the mails and post offices, in each state and territory, for the year 1820, 1821, and 1822. The National Journal states the fact, that to form the table alone, it required an examination of more than sixty-five thousand accounts. As great complaint is made of the delay of the nails from Washington to Boston, it may be Sixty-seven midshipmen having passed ex-amination, have been nominated by the Presi-those states through which the coaches pass, after the expenses of transportation and supporting the post offices have been deducted. In 1812, the balance paid by the District of Columbia, and the states of Maryland, Pennto her existence. Two slaves belonging to Richard C. Tilghman, Esq. of Mag land, lately quarrelled, and one of them stabbed the other and above all expenses, was upwards of and above all expenses, was upwards of 190,000 dollars. The expenses of course include all the cost of transportation on the

the direct route from Washington to Boston far exceeds that sum, and this is principally dreadful situation. Thus has another paid by the inhabitants of Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Providence, and Boston. Have not the merchants and traders of those cities a right to ask the government for a more certain and rapid transportation of the mail, even at double the preent cost? The Pittsburg Gazette states, that the eastern section of the Grand Canal of New York will be finished next summer: in anticipation of which event, the citizens of New York are building new steam beats, to extend their commerce to the various ports on Lake Erie, and are even forming transportation lines to conduct it into the interior of the adjoining states. Two new steam boats are at present on the stocks, at or near Buffalo; and the agents of a transportation company, now employed along the unfinished section of the canal, recently visited this place to make arrangements for placing a branch of their line of transportation wagons on the route between Erie and Pittsburg, in the expectation, by this north-west passage, of supplying us and our western neighbours with goods from the city of New York, at a cheaper rate than we can procure them from Philadelphia."

At Wolfborough, on the 30th ultimo, Mr. James Cate, was engaged in killing a hog. A rope was as usual fastened to the animal's tusks, by which it was dragged to the spot where it was to be dressed. When Mr. Cate had reached the trough, into which boiling water had just been poured, the rope suddenly broke, and plunged Mr. Cate into the trough, where he was so deeply scalded as to cause his death after a day or two of lingering distress.

The New Haven (Conn.) Herald states that "on Tuesday last the steam boat United States. Captain Beechter, gave notice that she would take passengers to and from New-York for ONE DOLLAR each-Dinner and Wine GRA-

Tis. This circumstance arose in consequence of the steam boat Linnzus, Captain Peck, reducing the regular fare, $3, to $1 50. A number of citizens who have never passed Hell Gate, improved the opportunity to visit the "great Emporium."

"Am I so old," exclaimed the present King of France, while looking at the dead body of the late Monarch. A pathetic expression, and strikingly exemplifies the miseries of old age and royalty united. These eyes, now dim, are doomed, for the remainder of my life, to read complaints of wrong and injustice—these ears, now growing deaf, to be stunned with tales of foreign or of domestic commotions, wars, and rumors of wars-and this white head, that aches for a pillow, is to be surmounted with a crown. Indeed when we come to view the miseries of public life; in its best estate. who can express astonishment at the man. who, when he walks around the boundaries of his native farm-contemplates his fireside, his barn and his orchard,-turns his back upon a public station with abhorrence.

HAYTI.-The ship Niagara has arrived at Savannah from Port-au-Prince. A gentleman who came passenger in that ship states, that the accounts which have previously been received in the United States, as to the state of alarm existing in the Island of Hayti, are much exaggerated. Military law had not been declared, nor had the emigrants been compelled to do duty on their landing. No interruption of consequence had been experienced in the trade to France; and it was expected right and proper, and must at all times be re that the negociations would be renewed. The meeting of the Island Legislature had satisfaction. Be it therefore, been called for the first of January, a period much earlier than the regular time of meeting, for the purpose, it was supposed, of appointing new commiss treaty with France.

Colonization .- The fourth annual meeting of the Norfolk Colonization Society was held at Norfolk on the 10th of January, 1825. The annual report of the managers was read by the secretary, and ordered to be published. The report states that the colony at Liberia is in a flourishing condition. "The colonists, about three hundred in number, are generally in good health and spirits, mostly quiet, sober and industrious, and are going on building their houses, and clearing their lands about them, which they will soon be able to cultivate with advantage. They are also carrying on a thriving little trade with the natives, which will obviously produce the best effect, and may hereafter prove of some commercial benefit to our country. At the same time they have been very properly careful to establish schools for the instruction of their children, at which also the little natives are beginning to lisp their letters in our mother tongue. They have also established two places of public worship, in which they have regular preaching, and always observe the Sabbath with proper respect. And indeed the whole settlement, from the character of the emigrants and the motives which have led them to found it, is essentially religious, and may therefore be expected to flourish in no common degree."

Governor Clinton .- The following paragraph s copied from the London Traveller, of Dec. 1st. "We are most happy in learning by the New-York papers, received this morning, that Mr. De Witt Clinton has been again elected to the office of Governor of that state. The estimation in which this great and good man s held by his fellow citizens, may be appreciated, by the fact of his return being sanctioned by a majority of nearly twenty thousand votes!

Strange things will never have done !- Lately. says the Cherry Valley Gazette, a respectable nechanic of this village, in the settlement of an account with a gentleman, brought in the following wonderful charge against him, which was exactly and truly correct

"L.—H.—To G.—F.—Dr. $1 50," " For repairing a Coffin!

From an official report to the New York egislature it appears that there are 38 banks n that state; that the aggregate of capital authorised to be invested in them is $26,000,000 -that the capital paid in is $23,611,960 90; the amount of tax levied $28,721 47-the amount of commutation $50,142 47-and that the dividends of the banks have varied from 5 to a little more than three per cent, averaging somewhat more than 7 per cent.

A letter from Valparaiso, received at Norfolk, states, that a battle was fought on the 31st Sept. between Bolivar and Canterac-the two armies amounting to about 17,000. The slaughter was prodigious, 3 to 5000 men being left dead on the field, two-thirds of whom were of the royal army. Victory decided in

On the 15th inst. a fire broke out in Ogdensburg, N. Y. It originated in a frame building occupied by Samuel O'Connor, which communicated to the barn of Dr. Smith, both his trunk 3500 or 4000 dollars, and about of which were destroyed-loss of property estimated at about $1000. But the most awful part of the catastrophe remains to be told -A human being was burnt to death! Samuel O'Conner, a shoemaker, being in the Mr. B. went to bed, his hirth being aster evening much intoxicated, had quarelled with and while sound asleep, Wilson approache his wife and driven her from the house. It is his birth, with a lighted candle in one hand supposed that in going to bed he had negli-gently left the candle in a situation to communicate fire to some light substance in the room. the report, sprung—the bed-clothes being As the smoke and flame increased in the set on fire by the powder—and was encoundreadful situation. Thus has another inbeen added to the long entalogue of tune and crime resulting from intemper

Advices from New Orleans state, the the 21st of December, the sloop La Paye upset in the Lake, the wind blowing in The passengers and sailors succeeded in ting on the wreck. Mr. Hosmer, one of passengers, after remaining nine hours in situation, preferred risking himselfin a pin with one of the sailors, the sea mak breach over the vessel, and thus succeed in saving himself. Captain Palmer. sailor by the name of John Hall, died the cold. Two passengers, Messrs. Ke and Coleman, were saved after remain above 48 hours on the wreck. The nex a schooner, supposed to be the Celeste. shout a mile from the Light House, bayou, and every one on board perishe

On Wednesday sen night, the trial of nijah Bailey, aged 79 years, for the murch Jeremiah W. Pollock, commenced at ham county, Connecticut, and after a proed trial of three days, the cause was give the jury, who returned a verdict of guil He was sentenced to be executed on the of June next. It is stated that the testim disclosed the most cruel and awful mus that has taken place in Connecticut for

A letter from St. Thomas of Dece 30th, after detailing the late conspiracy as certain negroes to runaway with two of merchant vesssels in the harbor, adds tha plot extended to the city of St. Thomas s was arranged that on Christmas night town should be set on fire in the four ext ities. The conspirators were to meet at same time, with all the negroes and m toes they could collect, to massacre whites, rob their houses, and obtain po sion of the island. It happened, however conspirators were overheard by a lady whom the plot was reported to the go ment, and thus happily frustrated.

Can such things be !- We learn from Ri mond, (says the Petersburg Republican,) on Saturday, the bill providing for the exp ces at York, was ordered to be engrossed a third reading, by a majority of only vote-ayes 92, nays 91-understood t equivalent to a Trejection!!! shall not, at present, say a word on the ject, because we might be disposed to spe irreverently of our betters; but we may permitted to express a hope, that La F ette, taking compassion on the poverty of state, will not propose to reimburse the pense incurred at York, out of his own vate funds.

The following resolutions were passed unas nously by the Senate of Massachusetts, a will doubtless pass the House of Represent tives without a dissentient voice. Simi solutions were passed by the legislature South Carolina. These tributes of feeling a respect are fully merited by the services ar worth of Mr. Monroe, and the wisdom a prosperity of his administration.

Whereas the term of office of James Monne President of the United States, will expire the 4th day of March next; and whereas acknowledgment by a free and enlighten people of their approbation and gratitude those who faithfully and impartially, and accordance with the Constitution, administ the Covernment committed to their charge. ceived by the true patriot with pleasure and

Resolved, That this logislature, convince that James Monroe, President of the Unite States has rendered great, essential and it portant services to his country, feel it a dur to offer him the sentiments of their higher consideration, respect and esteem. Resolved, That this Legislature do approv of the truly republican, wise and success administration of James Monroe, President the United States, under whose administration tion, by the blessing of Divine Providence peace has been preserved to the nation: a that when he shall retire from office, he carry with him the sincere wishes of this L rislature, for his future health, prosperity and

Resolved. That His Excellency the Governo e requested to communicate these resolu ions to the President of the United States.

Changing of Names .- In the New York L. gislature a bill was introduced changing the name of Harriet Jane Perkins to Harriet Jan Winter, and concluded with a resolution that from and after the passing of the act the sai Harriet Jane Perkins should take the name of Harriet Jane Winter, and no other." The New York American informs us that-

"Mr. Hayden, of Oswego, who by the b bears a strong resemblance in person and his mode of speaking to our junior senator i Congress, moved to strike out the words "an no other," on the ground that if the lad should happen hereafter to be married, the affirmative and peremptory terms of the statut might place her and her husband relatively a rather aukward predicament. The motiprevailed; but the Speaker suggested another difficulty-that if she should happen to marry a man by the name of Winter, her condition would not be relieved by the bill. Mr. Goodell the ex-speaker, remarked that such was the usual phraseology in like cases, whereupon Mr. Crolius no further pressed his suggestion The bill passed as amended, and poor Miss Harriet-was left to an interminable endurance of all the rigours of Winter."

From the Maysville (Ky.) Eagle

HORRIBLE ATTEMPT AT MURDER.

The following statement has just been de ailed by Mr. Vincent A. Bogue, who ha escaped, by a miraculous interference of Pro vidence, from the death which awaited hi by a predetermined blow :- Mr. Bogue is gentleman well known in Pittsburg, when he wrote in the prothonotary's office several vears, and has lately become a resident New Orleans. He left Pittsburg in Septen ber last, in a small flat boat, loaded with gre ceries and dry goods, on a trading voyage He took into his employment there a you man, named William Wilson, jr. but whos real name is believed to be Hobert Whitake and who appears to have formerly lived i Lycoming county, Pennsylvania. With Wilson, jr. Mr. B. states, he was much pleased, and that he placed much confidence in him so much so as to entrust him with selling goods, and receiving money in many stances. All the way down, till they reache Maysville, which was December 19th, there was generally boats near them, sometimes in company, and sometimes trading along side They stopped at Levana, a town be ville, Dec. 19th, and as most of the good had been sold out, Mr. B. mentioned to Wil son, that he would float to Cincinnati t next day, and then wind up the concern and close the voyage. Mr. B. had at this time i or 400 dollars worth of goods on hand; and here it was, that Wilson determined upor executing his bloody and horrible purpos At nine o'clock, on Sunday night, Dec. 19 Mr. B. went to bed, his birth being asters. and a loaded pistol in the other, and discharg ed it towards his breast. Mr. B. aroused by cen suffocated ousness of his nother instance ogue of misfor intemperance.

s state, that on oop La Fayette blowing fresh cceeded in gete hours in that selfin a pirouge sea making a Palmer, and Hall, died with lessrs, Kemble fter remaining The next day e Celeste, sun House, at the perished.

e trial of Ado. the murder of nced at Wind. a ter a protract. was given to ict of guilty. ed on the 8th the testimony awful murder cticut for manu of December piracy among two of th adds that the Thomas; and as night, the four extremmeet at the and mulas. nassacre the btain posses. I, however, the y a lady, b the govern arn from Rich publican,) the for the expen engrossed for of only one erstood to be !! _0 We d on the sul sed to speak we may be that La Fay. poverty of our burse the exf his own prie passed unanichusetts, and f Representa-Similar relegislature of of feeling and services and wisdom and LAMES MONROE.

will expire on d whereas the enlightened gratitude, to rtially, and in on, administer cir charge, in times be repleasure and slature, convinced

ent of the United ential and imfeel it a duty their highest do approve nd successful President of administra

> Providence. nation; and fice, he will of this Lerosperity and the Governor these resoluited States. New York Lehanging the Harriet Jane solution that act the said

the name of r." The New by the bye erson and in or senator in words " and if the lady married, the of the statute relatively in The motion ested another pen to marry er condition Mr. Goodell uch was the whereupon is suggestion. poor Miss le endurance

MURDER. ust been de e, who has nce of Pro waited him, . Bogue is a burg, where ffice several resident of in Septem ed with grog voyage. re a young but whose rt Whitaker. riv lived in With Wil uch pleased, nce in him, with selling n many in-19th, there metimes II along side. clow Maye f the goods ed to Wilcinnati the

oncern and

this time ill

ind about 3

hand; and nined upon

t, Dec. 19,

ing astern. approached

one hand.

roused by

tered by Wilson, who told him that the boat had been attacked by thieves; and while Mr. B. hurried to the bow of the boat, Wilson struck him down senseless with a club, and then cut his throat with a razor from ear to ear, in a most horrid manner, by three several cuts! From loss of blood, or by the intercession of an overruling destiny, Mr. B. again recovered his senses and rose, and, after a struggle with Wilson, grasped a fowling piece, which had been generally kept loaded vith shot to kill small game on their way down. With the feeble strength he could exert, he cocked the gun, and aimed it at Wilson, threatening to shoot him if he didnot row the boat ashore, and call for assistance to save his life-(for by this time he had discovered that the boat was floating down the stream.)-Wilson, terrified or overawed, was compelled to row the boat ashore, Mr. B. at the same time having the gun extended with one arm, and the other pressing blanket into the cuts on his throat, to staunch the blood. As the boat came near the shore, which was below Augusta, Wilson sprung out and fastened it to a tree. Mr. B. cut loose and drifted down. Being faint with loss of blood, he hailed a flat boat in sight, and implored for assistance to a murdered man, but no attention being paid to his solicitations, he dropped again into his birth, and there lay weltering in his blood until an hour trifted between two trees, at the shore of the town of Neville, fourteen miles below Augus-

ta. At day-break he crawled up into town, gave the alarm, and medical aid was called in immediately. Every thing about him was a mass of clotted blood, and his appearance frightful. His physicians say he will yet recover. From a variety of circumstances, it victim in the river as soon as he had mur- |" dered him, and then to have taken possession says. of boat, goods and money; disposed of the remainder of the goods, and made off with bullet rolled out of the muzzle before it was ischarged; and thus Mr. B.'s life was pre-Mr. B. has lost a pocket book, containing $500 in notes of the U. States' bank, rincipally of the Orleans branch; three otes, $50 each, and the rest 20's and 10'sand a bank book containing $55. Wilson has been in custody since the crime was commited, but escaped yesterday from the persons who were taking him to Georgetown jail, Brown county. It is supposed he is making his way to Canada. He is between 21 and 24 years old, grey eyes, fresh complexion, well proportioned, about 5 feet 10 inches high, has lost two teeth from his upper jaw, one on the right and one on the left, a prominent nose—when he laughs, the inner skin of his upper lip appears. Had on a blue coattee, It buttons, brown linsey pantaloons, pegged bootees, white stockings, toilenet vest, and had a black silk handkerchief round his neck -Irish linen shirt, rather course-when telling a story, laughs. A reward of $100 is offered for his apprehension and confinement in any jail in this state, by Mr. Bogue.

KENTUCKY-GOV. DESHA'S SON. On a proposition in the assembly to change the place of trial, a warm debate arose. The following extracts from the speech of Mr. Wickliffe, a distinguished member of the House, will be read with interest.

On entering the committee room (said Mr. Wickliffe) I took my seat, and in a few minutes I observed the gentleman from Montgomery (Mr. Shortridge) enter the room, and with him, to my astonishment, his Excellency the Governor made his appearance, and presently took his seat near the gentleman from Montgomery, with whom I observed him to speak several times; soon after observed him to speak several times; soon after this that gentleman moved to take up this bill.—

The new Synagogue of "those ancient immediate remedy, the abominable impieties of one of the most audacious infidels that It was now easy to account for his Excelleney's presence, and the occasional conversations to which I have referred. Other gentlemen have the committee as indelicate and improper. I do in Philadelphia. In the interior, the architect, not think it necessary to give vent to my feelings Mr. Strickland, had free scope for his taste

'This is the last and all I heard of this business until a Senator reported the bill with amendments, when on enquiry I learnt, that the gentleman from Nelson had, the morning after we were honored with his Excellency's presence in the committee room, reported the thing I hold in my hand, and that this house had passed it by dispensing with the constitutional provisions and the rales of the house, in a few minutes after it was handed to the Clerk; and that the Senate, to shew their zeal, had also dispensed with the constitutional provisions and rules of the Senate, and run it through their house; and then that a grave Senator had run with it to this house. Quick work, said Mr. Wickliffe, no time lost in either house in legislating a Governor's son out of the possession of the officers of justice, on a charge of murder. It is no great affair—only robbery and murder. Nothing but a man's throat cut for his money! And why should we spend time? why hesitate to release the supposed robber and cut-throat? Sir, said Mr. Wickliffe, a little hesitation, a little reflection might have been serviceable.— Oh no! Sunday pressed upon our career and we were forced to stay the work one day. But scarcely has Monday's light been shed upon us, be- tion was composed of the Hebrew residents fore the gentleman from Jefferson is up and dong's business must lie over-the Governor's son is in danger—justice may overtake him. Sir, said Mr. Wickliffe, do we owe nothing to decoram in this affair?—Shall we forge that the eyes of the people are upon us? That the eye of the Synagogue, the galleries. A preparatory service was performed in the building on heaven too is on us?—Remember Sir, this forms an epoch in our legislative career; that we shall see ourselves, or our children will see us in history in this business. What will be our record !-That a stranger in our land has been robbed; that he has been murdered—his throat cut; the Governor's son is charged with this crime, the very mention of which is enough to chill the blood; and we are legislating—we, with the Governor his father, are passing laws for his release, with precipitancy without example. Will not the people of our sister state (Mississippi) require the blood of her murdered citizens at our hands? If we perform this deed, will they not say to the people of Kentucky, your Governor's son has mardered our fellow citizen, and your represen-tatives have legislated his impunity.

Yes, sir, it has been reserved for the present ear to exhibit to our view an ex-Governor's sonlaw, (your now acting Register) arraigned and tried for wilful murder, and acquitted, because of his drunken insaulty; and the Governor elect's son in jail for murder and highway robbery!-When this is the fact-when this is only a part of the prospect before us-when every mail and stranger that arrives at your capital, gives you intelligence of some recent murder, of some new cut-throat—when we know that crimes and criminals are every where triumphant, and that our penal laws are already but shadows against the wealthy culprit is this a time, I ask to legishate criminal impunity by dispensing with consti-tutional provisions and legislative rules?

Green-Room Intelligence. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes have concluded their engagement at Washington, and are on their perform after being announced in the bills. Conway is in this city going through his ascending at the north side, and resting the favourite parts. Cooper is to be in Charles-ornamented copies of the Holy Writings on ton by the races. Burroughs has gone through two engagements at Boston, with profit and one of the sublime Psalms of David. This n. The Albany Theatre is progress-Opera House. Miss Kelly is expected to visit of the Rabbi, and the responses of the Clerk.

an engagement at the Boston Theatre.

Evening Post.

PHILADELPHIA. SATURDAY, JANUARY 29, 1825.

TO READERS AND CORRESPONDENTS. Lines to J. P. A. in Tennessce, from our friend Francis, claim their place in the poetical parterre of the next Post, as do those of our fair corres pondent Emily, whose productions we should wish to be allowed to acknowledge more frequently.— Everand shall have attention shown him as often as he sends us his favours. Ida on Vanity, and the Stanzas by Ellen, inscribed to Sympathy, it is intended shall both appear forthwith.

The third L-tter from Omicron is received, and will be published in our succeeding number This must convince him that we are desirous to accelerate the communication of his humonrous Epistles, that there may be no interruption to the rich vein of genuine wit which circulates so freely throughout them.

A Desultory Readers Notes, No. 2, are on file We have not had leisure to examine the Antiquary as closely as we intend, yet we are led to believe his article is inadmissible: his pen should speak of more modern events-fifty years back or two before day-break, when the boat is too far to turn, and the manners of the times too sophisticated, to add much to our improvement by referring to them for examples.

Several editorial items are delayed for want of room, as is likewise the particulars relating to an extraordinary Cat's Skin found in Chester County,

An advertisement of the American Fire Insur ance Company will be found in the fourth page of this paper. Those who have not applied for poliappears that Wilson's plan was to have sunk eies of insurance are advised to do so speedily,-'A stich in time, saves nine," as old Richard

> The citizens of Philadelphia are invited to call at No. 160 Walnut street, and view a correct Bust of Gen. La Fayette, recently finished, and now exposed for exhibition.

The recent exertions of a few distinguished individuals in promoting the objects of internal improvement, has been eminently conspicuous, and will doubtless be attended with the desired effect in stimulating the movements of other members of our community, and putting into operation the resources which have been laying inactive so long and so uselessly in the coffers of our mercantile brethren. A meeting was called together or Monday last, which has been seldom equalled in this city, for the talent that it displayed, and the manimity of sentiment which prevailed in the furtherance of its great and patriotic designs. On Thursday, a still more numerous and equally respectable town meeting was held. The General ommittee through Mr. J. Sergeant, made a report, which was unanimously adopted. Mr. Ser-geant made a few observations explanatory of the views of the committee, who had been unanimous in their deliberations. The report is drawn up with great energy and ability; it embraces th union of the waters of the Susquehanna and Lake Erie, and proposes the appointment of a General Committee of Correspondence to consist of twentyfour members. After the committee had been appointed, Mr. J. Randall offered a resolution approbatory of the objects and exertions of "the Pennsylvania Society for the promotion of Internal mprovement within the Commonwealth." Mr. R. stated that this resolution did not emanate from the committee, because sume of its members were officers and members of the Society, but while the resolution would no doubt be gratifying to them, he was authorized to say it met th candid approbation of every other member of the committee. The question was then put, and the resolution uranimously adopted.

JEWS' SYNAGOGUE.

upon the subject. He had no influence upon my and his judgment, and the liberality of the congregation has enabled him to display both to the best advantage. The chamber of wor-ship is truly beautiful, and will not suffer by comparison with any other. The roof is supported by massy pillars and pilasters. The ceiling, which is finely ornamented, is divided into two semi-domes by a quadrangular sky. light in the centre. The ark is hung with curtains of crimson silk, and the reading desk covered with the same material, of the richest quality. The seats are arranged in amphitheatrical form, and the floor covered with a rich Brussels carpet. There is no want of ornament, nor yet any redundancy. Every thing is made to correspond, and the tout ensemble is very pleasing. So general was the desire to witness the ceremony of the consecration, that the trustees of the Synagogue were under the necessity of issuing tickets. without which admittance could not be obtained; and though the service did not commence till sun-set, by half past three o'clock the seats were all occupied. The congregain our city, and Christians of different deno-The orders of the day must stop-the morn- minations, among whom were the venerable Bishop of the Episcopal Church, and other ry service was performed in the building on the rear of the lot, formerly occupied as a parsonage, from which, immediately as the sun set, (that being the commencement of the Sabbath,) the Rev. Messrs. Keys and Peixotto, accompanied by the elders, bearing seven copies of the Pentateuch, splendidly ornamented, marched in procession to the north door of the Synagogue. Here a service was performed in Hebrew, of which the following

s a translation : Rubbi-Make lofty your heights, O ye gates, and fly back, ye everlasting doors, for the King of Glory enters in. Clerk-Who is the King of Glory

The Lord of Hosts-He is the King of Glo. ry-Selah. Rabbi-Open the Gates of Righteousness for me, that I may enter through them to praise the Lord.

The door was then opened, and the service continued as follows: Clerk-This is the Gate of the Lord, into which the Righteous shall enter.

Rabbi - How dreadful is this place. Clerk-This is none other but the House of God, and this is the Gate of Heaven. Rabbi-Blessed art thou, O Lord, our God! King of the Universe, who hath preserved us alive, sustained us, and brought us to enjoy this season.

Then the Hachal (or ark) was opened, and the ornamental lamp suspended in front of it was lighted. This lamp is supplied with oil by the contributions of the pious, and is kept way to New-York. Mr. Booth has offended always burning. The procession then enter-the audience of the Metropolis by refusing to ed into the middle of the Synagogue, and passed round the Tebah, (or reading desk) the desk till the Choir had finished singing was repeated seven times, the singing being ing. Nothing more is said of the New-York occasionally intermitted by the prolocutions this city shortly.

Then the copies of the Pentateuch were soMrs, Burk has commenced the fulfilment of lemnly deposited in the Hachal. After this, the account of the dedication of Solomon's ing Concerts at New Orleans. He has lowered his prices as follow:—"First Row and Pit 75 cts. second for People of Color, 50 cents, and half price for children." time there was a full pause, all the congregation being engaged in silent prayer. This had a very solemn effect. At another time the Rabbi and all the male members chaunted began at two o'clock in the morning, and together, and were responded to by the choir in the gallery.

Mr. James Wills, grocer, who died on the 22d instant, has bequeathed his property as follows: After sundry private legacies: To city. In Newsky Prospect, the principal street the Friends' Asylum for insane persons, 5,000 in St. Petersburgh, where the best shops delphia Society for the Establishment and the Magdalen Society, 5000 dollars. To the damage done it is impossible to estimate. Orphan Society, the house in which be resided, No 84 Chesnut street. To the City Dispensary, and the Dispensary, of Southwark houses, Nos. 82 and 86, adjoining his resi The residuary Estate is bequeathed dence. to the Corporation of this City, in trust, to be applied to the erection and support of " Tax WILLIS HOSPITAL," for the relief of the Blind and Lame. It is said the residuary estate will expense, was thrown down, and the garden amount to 60 or 70,000 dollars, Bonnafon vs. Inglesi-The amount of bail demanded by the plaintiff in this action for damages was $5000. He was subsequently cited before Judges Levy and M'Kean, to shew cause of action, on a claim for a reduction of the amount of bail. The court after hearing affidavits and argument, decided that the an.ount of damages demanded was not excessive in an action of this nature. The defendant was therefore required to furnish bail for 5000 dollars. He has already been held to bail in the sum of $2000 on the criminal cause for the same offence. Counsel P. A. Browne and James Page, Esgrs. for Plaintiff. J. R. Ingersoll, and S. H. Perkins, Esqrs. for the de-

The drawing of the University Lottery, fourth class, new series, P. Canfield, Manager, took place at Annapolis, (Md.) on the 25th inst. and the following were the drawn numbers, viz: -2, 1, 18, 23, 30.

FOR THE SATURDAY EVENING POST. Messrs. Editors-In perusing your very in eresting paper of last Saturday, I observed, in the column of original poetry, what is ither a plagiarism, or inserted there by mistake, I cannot say which; but be it which it may, it ought to be corrected by you. The piece to which I refer, is the one addressed o Miss Sarah Ann B. of Philadelphia, and signed Valmore; it is selected from Miss Anna Maria Porter's Hungarian Brothers, and may be found in the fourth chapter of the first volume. If it was by your error that it was placed in that column, you certainly must be aware, that it is your duty to correct it; but s you have not done so, in your editorial remarks, we are led to conclude that it is supposed by you to be an original effusion from Valmore's pen, and that it was handed to you as such; if the latter be the case, it is a complete piece of plagiarism, and ought not to go unexposed. As it is the first we recollect seeing of Valmore's signature, (though the selection is very good) this may prevent a second in that column, if it should meet his eye.

> FOR THE SATURDAY EVENING POST. A CONTRAST.

RETROP.

From the "Christian Advocate," for January, 1825, Edited by the Rev. Doctor Green. "Wanting a 'written creed'-a large, and in our opinion, the best part of that society, (of Friends,) are obliged to endure, without immediate remedy, the abominable impieties ever insulted public sentiment." From 2 Timothy, 2 chap. 24 and 25 verses, Written by the Apostle Paul.

Is The servent of the Lord must not strive. but be gentle unto all men; apt to teach, patient : in meekness instructing those who oppose themselves."

The foregoing was handed us by an intelligent friend, (not in religious profession with the society alluded to,) as exhibiting, in a striking point of view, the difference between the feelings and sentiments of the apostle Paul, and those which actuated the Reverend whose name stands near the top of this article, to presume, in the plenitude of his orthodox zeal, to hurl anathemas, with the confidence of a Roman Pontiff during the dark ages, at the head of one of the best and holiest men

The disposition evinced in this effusion of tle of the Gentiles, than the epithets displayed in it, are inapplicable and unjust. With what justice, we ask, can "impiety" be attributed to one, whose whole life is a constant exemplification of every amiable and christian virtue-the whole object of whose ministry is to bring to the knowledge of the one true and living God, and to entire obedience to his will-to inculcate on all, the indispensable obligation of purity and holiness; or, in other words, the fulfilment of every relative duty to God and man; and that, under the influence of the love and light of God, ever present to the mind of man to inform him of those duties? With what pretence of justice can "infidelity" be attributed to one who believes in God-"that he is"who comes "unto him," and whose whole who comes "unto him," and whose whole soul is bound "to please" him?—in short, his bereaved relatives; the wound has been sudden whose confidence and love are, from day to and deep, and nought but time can reconcile them day, placed in him, and in him alone, and to the stroke. But I would direct them to that whose every energy is exerted to show forth God who has said 'I wound and I heal;' and they these by humble obedience in the work which should remember that this is not our abiding place, that soon, very soon must we also depart from this mercy, and walking humbly with his God?—
Who believes in Jesus Christ—that he was the son and Messiah of God—sent of God to bless and save the world. Where, we result this soon to be launched on the boundless ocean of eternity. Possessing in a high degree all that was amiable in man: an exbless and save the world. Where, we repeat, is the justice of such epithets in application to an individual like this!—and such, every good and impartial man, who is acquainted with him, must pronounce the venerable and worthy servant of the Lord, whose religious character is thus assailed by pretended "Christian advocates." But we invite these, for their own sakes, before they invite these, for their own sakes, before they resort to phraseology like this, in relation to a christian brother, to examine carefully their own hearts, whether the Prince of peace and love rules there, lest in the dread day of decision, it should be said to them, as to some we read of, who were very forward to cry "Lord! Lord!"-"depart from me; I know you not!"

LATE FROM EUROPE. The packet ship Howard, capt. Holdridge, has arrived at New York from Havre, whence

she sailed on the 17th of December. London dates to the 11th of December are received. Effects of the Hurricane on the Continent .-The tremendous gales which were experienced on the coast of England, from the 18th to the 20th of November, extended over the continent of Europe. The direction appears to have been as follows:—It began upon the shores of England and Ireland, and after having wrought into fury the Northern sca, passed by Gottenburgh and Sweden, continually increasing from south-west to north-west. In traversing Sweden, it swept away entire forests. In the Gulf of Finland, its ravages were most severely felt. In an instant, it drove the waters of the Baltic into the Gulf The editor of the Cork Reporter speaking of a late representation of Richard III. by Mr. ship was concluded with the service for the Kean says "We speak of it at a piece of perfection throughout, to which the most was chaunted by the Rabbi in a manner sometastidious critic or the source cynic, could not make an exception."

Mr. Helline, the Italian Troubadour, is givenice for the succeeding pealm. At one of the Boston The Baltic into the Gulf of Finland, and caused an immense rise of the waters. At St. Petersburgh, the most severely felt. In an instant, it drove the waters of the Baltic into the Gulf of Finland, and caused an immense rise of the waters. At St. Petersburgh, the most disconnection of Richard III. by Mr. ship was concluded with the service for the waters. At St. Petersburgh, the most disconnection of Richard III. by Mr. ship was concluded with the service for the waters. At St. Petersburgh, the most disconnection of Richard III. by Mr. It is a piece of the successing consequences resulted from the over-flowing of the News on the 19th of November. The inundation was greater than that of the dedication of Solomon's drove the waters of the Baltic into the Gulf of Finland, and caused an immense rise of the waters. At St. Petersburgh, the most disconnection of Richard III. by Mr. It is a piece of the successing consequences resulted from the over-flowing of the November III. by Mr. It is a piece of the waters. At St. Petersburgh, the most disconnection of Richard III. by Mr. It is a piece of the state of the Solomon's drove the waters of the Baltic into the Gulf is a piece of the service for the service of the waters. At St. Petersburgh, the most disconnection of Richard III. by Mr. It is a piece of the service for the blowing against the current of the Newa, the water, at nine c'clock, was upon a level with the parapet walls of the river and the canals. The wind then blew stronger, and the river breaking over every barrier, immdated the dollars. To the four Monthly Meetings of are situated, the water rose to a height of Friends Society, 2500 dollars. To the Phila- ten feet. All these shope, as well as the great Custom-house warehouses, and the Exchange Support of Charity Schools, 1000 dollars. To Sugar warehouses were under water. The Many persons, who were before in easy circumstances, are now reduced to beggary. The bridges over the river, and most of those and the Northern Liberties, the two dwelling | over the canals, were destroyed or seriously damaged. Boats laden with provisions and goods were carried over the quays and wrecked, even in the heart of the city. The new pier, prepared for the bridge of the summer garden, which had been finished at a great laid waste, large trees even having been torn up by the roots. Hundreds of persons must have perished. All the cattle in the markets of St. Petersburgh were drowned, and the horses could only be saved by lifting them by main force to the first stories of the houses. It was not till three o'clock in the afternoon, that, the wind going down and changing its direction, the waters subsided, so that at five o'clock the streets were clear of it. The capital could not be lighted at night The morning of the 20th it presented a scene of desolation. The ovens having been destroyed by the water, and the cellars filled in which the flour is kept, it was difficult to supply the people with bread. Whole houses with their occupants were engulphed by the flood. Wagons, with four horses, heavily laden, were carried away. The bodies of seven thousand persons have been found in the houses, and eight thousand persons are still missing.

A letter from St. Petersburgh states, that the effect of the hurricane was awfully felt at Catharenchof, where nothing remained but the fragments of some country houses, from which the inhabitants escaped with great difficulty. Many persons in that town lost their lives.

The hurricane raged with equal fury in the wedish capital, in Gottenburgh, Vibourg, Jutland, &c. At Stockholm, vessels were torn from their moorings, and roofs of houses were carried away, and the roads were so completely blocked up with trees, that travelling was stopped. Twenty five vessels near the bridge of Munkbron were carried away with the bridge, and all of them much damaged.

Professor Gruithuison, of Munich, attempts to account for the extraordinary weather, by new spots on the disk of the sun.

The whole regiment of imperial guards with their horses perished. A vessel of 100 guns has disappeared. All the imperial vessels in the harbour of Cronstadt are said to have been lost. The burial places were washed away and the dead bodies were floating in the street.

At a meeting of the Samaritan Beneficial Society of the City and County of Philadelphia, held on Monday evening last, the following persons were elected officers for the present year :- Christian Sulger, President-Henry Valleau, Vice-President-John Jones, Secretary-William Conrad, Trensurer-Thos. Simpson and Charles Gale, Stewards-Samuel Lower, Messenger.

"Woes cluster-rare are solitary woes ;-They love a train, and tread each others heels."

But a few weeks since, we noticed the decease of William H. Gardner, and now myst resume the melancholy duty of calendaring the works of death, by Joling that of his cousin, WILLIAM GARDING, both of this city, both victims of the pestilence at Alvarado. William Gardner was in the bloom of ripening manhood, with every virtue to render him estimable, with every prospect of successful exertion—the beloved of his numerous relatives and friends, the treasured stay of his aged mother. Why should we enumerate his virtues !- he has found a cemetry in a strange land, and the parent was not there to watch o'er her darling, or wipe the dews of anguish from

Sweet be thy rest, the' the hand of the stranger Closed the dear eyes we shall gaze on no more; The tempest may frown, thou art free from all danger,

The pestilence passes thee harmlessly o'er.

The land of thy boyhood will never receive thee, illiberality, is not more unlike the great apos-tle of the Gentiles, than the epithets display-And the tear drop in fancy doth hallow thy grave. Thy dirge is unheard o'er the deep ocean wave; Blest be thy spirit, and if thou canst c'er borrow A balm for despair, from the fountain of joy, Oh, breathe o'er thy mother, till safe from all sorrow

She seek in the mansions of bliss for her boy.

ORITUARY.

We have been called again, by an afflicting dispensation of Divine Providence, to convey to the narrow house appointed for all living, one of the votaries of seience,—the brightest luminary of the Delaware Bar, JOSHUA GORDON BRINCK. LY, sleeps beneath the clods of the valley—the spirit which but a short time ago, animated his tabernacle of clay, now reposes in Abraham's bosom. Useless would it be for me to attempt to that in a few short years his sun should set forever, mansion, and the tears of many bedew the sacred spot. Sleep on departed friend, your spirit soon shall awake to glorious immortality. T. S. B.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE. ARRIVALS.

22. Schr. Ceres, Miller, Porto Cabello, 36 days, Hides, &c.

24. Ship Georgia Packet, Bunee, Charleston, 6 days, Morchandire.

CLEARANCES. Jan. 24. Ship Carolinian, Hewes, Charleston, S. C. 25. Brig Vinyard, Cheever, St. Jago. 26. Brig Ærief, Teal, Gibraltar.

Good Intent Hose Company.—A stated meeting will be held on Tuesday evening next, at the usual place, at half past 6 o'clock. JAS. W. MARTIEN, Sec'ry.

Hibernia Greens .- The corps will meet at Keating's, (Shakspeare Buildings,) on Tuesday evening next, at half past 6 o'clock.

J. W. DICKSON, Sec'ry.

SARAH DAVIS & CO. RESPECTFULLY inform their friends and the public in general, that they manufacture SUSPENDERS of every description, and particularly J. Davis's Genuine Patent Improved Suspenders, which answer for pantaloons and drawers, such as no one-else makes.—Likewise CRAVAT STIFFENERS, of the best quality can be had, wholetale and retail, at

No. 31, South Front Street.

We hope that our attention to business will merit the favours of the public.

N. B.—The Patent can be seen by applying as above, nov. 3-1m lunday evening, the 18th linst, by the Rev. L. M'Coombs, Mr. CHARLES J. SNYDER, to Miss LEAR!

MARRIED.

S. COMER, both of the Northern Liberties.
On Sunday evening, the 2d in t. at Germantown, by the Rev. Mr. Baker. Mr. SAMUEL MATHER, to Miss SARAH BROOK, all of the former place.
On Tuesday morning, the 25th inst. by the Rev. Dr.
A. Green JAMES GREEN, Esq. of Princeton, N. J. to ISABELIA W. daughter of the late John M'Culloh,
Esq. of this city.

ISABELLA W. daughter of the late John McCulloh, Eag, of this city
On the 15th inst. by the Rev. H. G. King, Mr. ELIAS JESTE, to Miss MARGARETTA AL daughter of Mr. Josiah Drummond, all of this city.
On Thursday evening, the 20th inst. by the Rev. Mr. Burch, Mr. DANIEL VANOSTEN, to Miss MARY JANE SIEWART, all of this city.
At Germantown, on Tucaday evening last, by the Reverend Mr. Baker, Mr. JAMES OGILBY, to Miss MARY NICE, all of that place.
On Thursday evening, by the Rev. William M. Engles, Mr. JACOB SIRADLEMAN to Miss HANNAH LATCH, both of Adecing Township, Montromery County.

Mr. JACOB S I RADLEMAN to Miss HANNAH LATCH, both of Merion Township, Montgomery County.

On I hursday evening, by the Right Rev. Bishop White, Mr. ROBER I G. HERRING, of the firm of Herring & Mitchell, to Miss LOUISA A. daughter of Mr. Charles Cany, all of this city.

On Thursday evening, the 27th instant, by Thomas J. Kitts, Mr. JOHN BELFORD, to Miss REBECCA WEEKS, both of the Northern Liberties.

On Tuesday evening, the 19th inst. by the Rev. J. G. Hermon, Mr. ROBERT LYNDALL, to Miss CATHARINE M. daughter of Mr. Achey Little, all of this city.

On Thursday evening, the 20th inst. by the Rev. Thomas Griffin, Mr. THOMAS THOMPSON, to Miss MARGARET SNARE.

On Wednesday evening, the 26th inst. by the Rev. Thomas Burch, Mr. SAMUEL A., WILE, to Miss SARAH E. PARKER, all of this city.

DIED,

On Thursday evening, the 27th inst. after a short, but severe illness, which he bore with Christian fortitude, Mr. CONSTANT WOODMAN, aged 52 years. His friends are particularly invited to attend his funeral, from his fate residence, No. 55 Market street, this afternoon, at 3 of clock.

friends are particularly invited to attend his funeral, from his late residence, No. 55 Market street, this afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

Yesterday morning, in the 22d year of his age, Mr. JOHN MERRIAM, a native of Boston, Mass. His funeral will take place this afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from Mrs. Sutter's, No. 286, North Third Street.

On Thursday morning, JAMES C. WILTBANK, aged 17 years, son of the Rev. James Wiltbank.

On Wednesday afternoon, the 19th inst. Mr. SAMUEL W. POTTER, in the 31st year of his age.

On Saturday morning, in the 65th year of her age, Mrs. ANN GILBER I, widow of the late Michael Gilbert.

On Fifth day evening, the 29th instant, ANN LYNN, wir ow of Joseph Lynn, in the 55th year of her age.

On Theesday morning. ANDREW EPPLEE, Esq. aged 45 years. Deputy Collector of the Port of Philadelphia.

On Monday, the 24th instant, in this city, Mr. EDWIN LEE, S. udent of Medicine from Norfolk. Vir.

On Saturday evening, the 22d instant, JAMES WILLS, Grocer, in the 48th year of his age.

At Nashville. (Tenn.) but the 7th instant, aged 25, Mr. ROBERT SANDERSON, formerly of Philadelphia.

On Thursday morning, the 27th inst. Mrs. ANN PRICE, wildow of the late Richard P.ice, aged 64 years.

On Wednesday, the 26th inst. SARAH STRATTON, aged 81, wildow of the late Rev. Fithian Stratton.

widow of the late Richard P. ice, aged 64 years.
On Wednesday, the 26th inst. SARAH STRATTON, aged 81, widow of the late Rev. Fishian Stratton.
On Wednesday, the 26th inst. EDMUND WILLIAM KELSEY, aged three years and two months.
On Thursday morning, the 26th inst. aged 58 years, Mrs. MARY BROWN, after a lingering illness.
In West Philadelphia, on the 19th instant, Mrs. JULIA ANN STIBBINS, wife of Rowland Stibbins, aged 26.

TO LET.

A STORE, situate in Callowhill, between Fifth and Sixth streets, well calculated for the Dry Goods Susiness, and considered a very excellent stand. Ap-

WILLIAM J. KIRK.

No. 183 North Third street. A FARM TO LET.

TO Let, upon Shares, a Farm and stock of Cows, &c. situate six miles from Philadelphia, and a quarter of a mile from Frankford. As the terms upon which said Farm will be let, are very liberal, recommendations, stating the ability, sobriery, and integrity of the applicants will be indispensable. A Farmer having sofficient help within his own family will be preferred. Apply at No. 117, the North West corner of Market and Third streets, to ian 29—24* RICHARD WISTAR. jan 29-2t* RICHARD WISTAR.

FARM FOR SALE.

Situate in Lower Dublin Township, Philadelphia Country, eight miles from Philadelphia on the Bustleton and Smithfield Torpike, adjoining lands of Samuel Swift. Dr. John Eartolet, John Cornell, and others, containing 140 acres, 28 acres of Wood. The improvements are two stone houses, frame barn, waggon house, spring-house, with other out-buildings, a good apple orchard, &c. Any person wishing to see the premises, will call on the subscriber now on the jan 29-3t* DANIEL WALTON. WILLIAM M. URQUHART, BLOCK and PUMP MAKER.

Second door above the Drawbridge wharf, in Water st

TATHERAM M. URQUIART has commenced busing

Notes at the above place, and respectfully requests of his friends and the public generally, a portion of that patronage which it shall be his study to merit in the various branches. N. B. Orders, in any line connected with his profession, will be promptly attended to.

TO BLACKSMITHS.

FOR SALE, a very valuable stand, in the village of Holmesburg, nine miles from Philadelphia; the shop is large, of stone, and well situated for country and pobbing work—with a good dwelling house, &c. Near the situation are three Saw Mills, two Cotton Factories, and two Saw hills, &c. As the subscriber intends, or wishes to leave this part of the country, by the first of April next, he wishes immediate application to be made by any one desirous of purchasing.

WILLIAM GRAHAM.

Holmesburg, Jan. 22, 1825. [29--3t* Conveyancing & Land Agency Office,

No. 103 SOUTH SECOND STREET. No. 103 SOUTH SECOND STREET, Nearly opposite the Merchants' Coffe House.

THE subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has removed his Conveyancing and Land Office, from No. 74 South Second street, to the above place, where he will continue to attend to the purchase and sale of Real Estate, in the City and Country, by private or public sale. Conveyances and writings of all kinds, preputed with accuracy, neatings and despatch. A Register of houses, lots, fature, ground rents, &c. for sale, is kept, which those disposed to purchase
may at all times inspect. City property, and ground rents, are entered without charge. Country property, entered and advertised in three daily papers, if wanted, at a reasonable rate. Money procured and loaned on mortgage

P. I. WILTBOHN, Conveyancer

Artificial Flower Making. THE elegant and locrative business of Artificial Flower Making, taught at a very reduced price, at Ao.
22 Branch street.

To be Sold at Public Sale. On the 10th day of the Second month, 1825.

A VALUABLE Plantation, situate in Birmingham Township, Delaware County, 7 miles from Wilmington, and 27 from hitadelphia, containing 114 acres, more or less, naturally of a good quality, most part twist limed over, and a large portion of timber land. There are on the premises, a stone dwelling house, 40 feet square, two stories high, with four rooms on the first floor, five rooms and a large clothes press on the second floor, and a large piazza all round the same, with cellar underneath. Also, a good stone kitchen, with cellar underneath into which water is conveyed, through pipes, from a never-failing spring, for the use of a milk-house; a large battn, stone and frame, with cellar underneath; a large waggon-house, chair-house, spring house, weath; a large waggon-house, chair-house, spring house, with shoemaker's shop underneath, and other out-buildings. On the 10th day of the Second month, 1825.

with shoemaker's shop underneath, and other out-buildings.

The above property is divided into handsome fields, well watered, with a large apple orch and other fruit trees, of different kinds, a large meadow, with watered banks, and a stream running through it, possessing jower sufficient to drive a thousand spintles. The whole is in a handsome situation, with a public road leading through the premises. It is bounded by land of Thomas Green, and others, and is near to places of worship, and mills of different kinds.

It is presumed unnecessary to give a further description of the property, as persons wishing to purchase are lavited to view for themselves. For further information application may be made to the subscribers, living there-application may be made to the subscripers, living there PETER HATTON, jan 29-2t* WILLIAM GREEN

CAUTION.

Easton, Talbet County, Maryland.

WHEREAS, a certain I. B. NORTON did, on the 11th day of September, 1824, obtain from me two notes of hand, made negotiable at the Farmers' Bank of Maryland, the one for one hundred and fifty-four dollars and fifty cents, payable six months after date; the other for one hundred and fifty-nine dollars, payable twelve months after date, and both of said notes were endorsed by Edward N. Hambleton, Esp.; and whereas, the said I. B. Norton has neglected and failed, in every respect, to comply with the engagements for which the said notes were passed, and no valuable consideration whatever having been received for the same, I do hereby caution all persons from taking any transfer of assignments on the said notes, or cither of them, as I am determined not to pay the same, or may part thereof, unless compelied by law, reserving to myself the right of cetting forth, at large, all the circumstances connected with the aforemid transaction, whenever the same may be necessary. r the same may be necessary.

* JAMES MELONEY.

NOTICE. .

A LL Persons having claims against the estate of JOHN MOULSON, deceased, will please to present their accounts, properly atteated, and those indebted to make payment s and also, all persons having accounts or papers of his in their possession, will please to deliver them to the Subscriber, at No. 68 North Third Screet, without delay.

RICHARD S. RISLEY.

PUBLIC SALES AT AUCTION.

No. 73 Market street, a few doors above Second. On Wednesday and Saturday mornings, at nine o'clork A large and valuable assortment of Fresh Imported DHY GOODS, in lots to suit purchasers.

Also, a general assortment of DOMES FIC GOODS.

COMLY & TEVIS. Auc'rs. The Self-sharpening Plough.

THE subscriber respectfully informs the public, that he has made some very important improvements on the Self-sharpening Plough, to which he now invited public attention.

Ploughs constructed on the Subscriber's plan, are acknowledged, by all who have used them, to be far pre-ferable to any other kinds or offered to the public. The first cost is less than that of any other kind; and as they are so constructed that they require no other sha pening, they will save a very considerable sum to those who we them. The expense of a new point and share, will be from twenty-five to sixty cents. The cutting part of the plough is all secured by one nut, which renders it very simple, and not liable to get out of repair. When the point and share are worn on the underride, the nut is unscrewed, and the point and share reversed, which places the sharp edge down, (as they are so constructed that they will fit equally well with either side uppermost;) this has the same effect as sharpening ploughs of the usual construction.

most;) this has the same effect as sharpening ploughs of the usual construction.

These ploughs are found to run lighter than any other kind, and perform the work equally well. They are made and sold, wholesale or retail, by the subscriber, at his "Self-sharpening Plough Manufactory," No. 402 Market street, where all orders will be punctually attended to. They can be afforded at such price that it would be an object to shippers to buy them for exportation.

The patent right for the above mentioned ploughs, will be sold for Townships, Counties, or States, as may best suit purchasers, by jan 27-tf PRINTING MATERIALS.

WALDREN BEACH, Patentee. No. 402 Market street.

A TRINSON & ALEXANDER, No. 53 Market strey. Philadelphia, have for sale a variety of Printing Materials, which they will dispose of cheap, viz:—
1 font Seven-line Pica, (ornamented.) well calculated. r jobs.
I font Great Primer, large or small quantity, nearly new.
I font Brevier, 600 wt. half worn, the whole or a part,

A Westing Trough, lined throughout with lead.
A Washing Trough, and other materials, well calculated for a country newspaper.

jan 29 1f

INSOLVENT DEBTORS OR the next March Ferm, can have their Bonds and Final Petitions correctly and fegally drawn, and their business attended to throughout, on such terms as may be suitable to the condition of the applicant, at No 7, North Sixth Street.

One door below South Alle: P. VAN PELT, DENTIST,

RATEFUL for past favours, begs leave to inform of his friends and the public, that he continues to perform all operations connected with his profession, at his old establishment (it having been reported that he had removed) No. 149 CHESNUT STREET, apposite the Bank of the United States. He makes no claim to superior knowledge or excellence, neither is he in possession of enchanted instruments, which operate without the least pain-nor of wonderful specifics, that fintently cure the most violent tooth ache-but he premises most faithfully his best endeavours to give satisfaction to all those who may honour him with their commands.

P. VAN PELT has always a supply of his Antiscorbutic Dentifrice, and the usual remedies for mitigating violent tooth ache, which will be applied granultously, dec 18-6m°

TRISH LINENS.

THE Subscriber will open this morning, an extensive and complete assortment of Colerain. Housewife, and other approved bleaches of 7-8 and 4-4 Irish Linent. Also on hand, Long Lawns, Linen Cambric Hdkfs, Cambric, Jaconet, and Book Muslins, plain and figured Swiss do. Steam Loom and Long Cloth Muslins, plain and figured Lodia Mull do, Bombazeens, Bombazeets and Norwich Crapes, white, red, and yellow Flannels, Baize

And recently received, an additional assertment of Silk Goods, consisting of Levantines, Florences, plain, figured and shaded Gros de Naples and Gros d'Etc, Lutestrings, sed French Sitins, white Gros de Naples and Bonogt, Silks, figured and plain Savin and Mantia Ribands, Gauze. Crape Lisse and figured Fancy Hikfs, German Flag and Bandannoe do, Gros d'Ese Robes, Sec. HENRY C. CORRIT.

No. 40 South Second Street

ENGLISH ACADEMY. No. 152 South Tenth Street.

The Subscriber, late pupil of the Rev. Dr. Gray, Rev. Dr. Wylie, and Mr. Fennell, respectivily informs his friends and the public, that his SEMINARY continues open for the reception of pupils. The course of study in his institution includes, in addition to the more elementary branches of Grammar, Asithmetic, and Geography, the higher studies of Mathematics, Elocution, Natural Philorophy and Topography. The preceptor promises his most streamous efforts to promote the moral and intellectual advancement of those committed to his care, and solicits a continuation of public favor. Terms 88 per quarter. Children under 7 years of age, 85 per quarter. Children under 7 years of age, 85 per quarter.—S. B. Wylie, D.D.—E. S. Ely, D.D.—Rev. Mr. Bedell, John Sergeant, Joseph Reed. William Rawle, C. S. Ingersoll, Esquires, Gep. R. Patterson, and Dr. Jackson. No. 152 SOUTH TENTH STREET.

NEW SHOE STORE. SAMUEL D. BREED & SIMON MUDGE, inform their friends and the public generally, that they have taken the store, No. 246 Marketstreet, where they offer for sale a general assortment of Ladies, Gentle-men's Misses, Boys and Chiluren's Philadelphia made BOOTS and SHOES, of the best workmanship and materials, and respectfully solicit that share of patron-age which assiduity and exertions to give satisfaction dec 25-1y BREED & MUDGE. HART & FLANAGAN. PLUMBERS.

R ESPECTFULLY inform their friends and the public in general that they have taken the shop No. 8 WALNUT-STREET, (near the Wharf.) where they intend carrying or the business in all its various branches, and all orders entrusted to their care will be executed with fidelity and despatch.

N. B.—The business will also be continued at No. 170 pruce, near Fifth street.

HOWELL'S INDIAN SYRUP. A PREPARATION composed entirely of Medicinal Heros and Plants, and has proved itself to be a valuable remedy for the cure of Colds, Asthmas, Consumption of the Lungs, and long confirmed Coughs and particularly for the removal of those slight Colds attended with Cough, incident to children. Prepared by the Proprietor ONLY, No. 70 NORTH FIFTH STREET, where a liberal allowance will be made to those who purchase to sell again. Price 25 Cents aboutle.

JOHN B. HOWELL.

JOHN B. HOWELL. A variety of other medicines to be had at the

B. ROBINSON.

REPS constantly for sale at his VARIETY and JEWELRY STORE, No. 12 North Second Street, Fine Pearl, Fine Gold and Plain JEWELRY; Silver Spoons; Spectacles, suited to all ages; Plated Goods and Brittania Ware; an extensive assortment of Coral of all sizes; fine Polished Steel and Fancy Glit Goods, all of which will be warranted and sold low, wholesale or re-

ail. Distant Orders attended to with promptness and oct, 16-ef

Saddle, Bridle, Collar and Harness MANUFACTORY.

THE Subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public generally, that he has commenced the SADDLE, RHIDLE, COLLAR and HARNESS Making Business, at No. 79 NORTH SECOND STREET, third door above Arch, where he keeps constantly on hand, an assortment of the above articles, together with Whips, Trunks, &c. which he will dispose of on the most reasonable terms, for Cash, or in exchange for Gountry Produce. Also, Jetsey Whips, of superlor quality.

N. B. Ladies and Gentlemen can be accommodated with board at the above place, on reasonable terms.

dec. 11-2m

Six Cents Reward.

RANAWAY from the Subscriber, living in Marple Township, Delaware County, the 20th of Sept. 1824, an Indented Negro lad, about 17 years of age, named Essex Ales. Whoever takes up said runaway and brings him to the owner, shall receive the above reward, but no charges.

I forbid all persons harbouring or erasting him on my account.

DAVID HALL.

NOTICE. HAVING declined business and let my stand to Tho-mas S. Tucker, I recommend him as being worthy the confidence and patronage of my friends and custo-mers.

ABRAHAM HICTARD.

THOMAS S. TUCKER respectfully informs his Customers and the public generally that he has removed to the above mentioned stand, No. 19 south Third Street, where he has on hand an exactions Assortment of CLOTHS, CASSIMERES and FESTINGS, which he will make up on remonable terms at the shortest notice.

Variety's the very spice of life, That gives it all its flavour.

TO ROSINE. I know thee not, sweet Lady, but I know (At least they know who say so) that thou art Lovely of form, and innocent of heart, A creature of meek thoughts and tears that flow From quiet love, and happy smiles, that throw A moonlight round them. And thou art the bride,
Of one by faith and goodness sanctified,

High-hearted, gentle, wise, and firm in woe. Ah! wherefore such transcendant gifts bestow'd On one, so rich already? Why not given To one, whose soul more needed sweet stay; Some hapless wight, like me, at random driv'n, Lonely and sad, along life's rugged road, Without a breeze of love to cheer me on the Epigram on a Villain. The wise and noble live not long, they say; The wicked too must die, and dying what are

Tho' sin point out its promise to thine eye, used before they break, otherwise it will do in-Retorts upon thyself, with fiend-like scorn, jury.

The doubly bitter curse, that thou, e'en Thus deep the curse that thou wert ever born thou, shalt die.

FOR THE SATURDAY EVENING POST. The following answer is given to the question published last week, viz. what number, when multipled by 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 or 10, the product of which, if added together, will produce exactly the multiplicand?

9
1	2	3	4
	· ·	-	-
9-9	18-9	27-9	36—9
Another	solution to	the abo	ve, by a correspondent, is	as follows	:
	10	1 1 1.	0 0

onde	nt,	19	as 1	OHC	ws:
9	×	2	-	18	and	1	+	8	===	9
9	×	3	-	27	and	2	+	7	1000	9
9	×	4	10000	36	and	3	+	6	1000	9	4
9	×	5	1700	45	and	4	+	5	Bath	9
9	×	6	1000	54	and	5	+	4	mei	9
9	×	7	-	63	and	6	+	3	2000	9
9	×	8	-	72	and	7	+	2	-	9
					and
					and

Business dull .- Rev. E. Wallace advertises in the Canandaigua N. Y. papers for business he represents himself as a sound and orthodox minister of the gospel, and that his case may not be overlooked, he publishes sundry certificates of his excellence as a preacher 'Any calls,' says the Rev. advertiser, 'in my line,' will be thankfully received."

From European Journals.
LONDON POLICE.

Bow-street .- Among the odd fish, who were caught by the watchmen in casting their nets on Friday night, was a Hibernian wag, rather advanced in years, of very seedy exterior, but possessing all the dry good humour and joke cracking disposition of his whiskey-loving countrymen.

On being put to the bar, the watchman was called on to state his charge, and this was done in very few words. In fact, Mr. Butler, the detunu was found dead drunk, under the piazzas in Convent garden, at two o'clock in the morning.

"Well," said Sir Richard, " how do you account for your disorderly conduct?" Mr. B, (with a grin,) "O faith. Sir Richard,

I never was much of an accountant; and if I was myself, when I was dead drunk, as the watchman says, what I'd be saying would'nt do me much good, for 'dead men tell no

Sir Richard. " What brought you in such a

Mr. B. I suppose I brought myself that way by drinking liquor.
Sir Richard. It would have been well if you had taken yourself home to bed. Mr. B. 'Fore God, you're right, it would have been well, but there were two reasons against that-first I was blind drunk as well as dead drunk, and so I could'nt see my way; and next, if my eyes were as good as your Worship's, I could'nt have seen what I hav'nt got, which is a bed. Sir Richard. Have you no lodgings?

Mr. B. Divil a lodgings, except in the words of the owld song, "On the cowld ground." Sir Richard. What are you?

Mr. B. Faith, I'm a prisoner, I believe. Sir Richard. I mean, how do you get your fiving?

Mr. B. Through the blessings of Providence. Sir Richard. Have you no trade? Mr. B. Is it me?—the devil a trade.

Sir Richard. Were you brought up to no business? Mr. B. No, by my soul, I was tenderly rared.

and my education was my only patrimony. Sir Richard, That sort of money does'n go far with a man of your inclinations.

Mr. B. (with a laugh.) 'Fore God, you're right again; all the learning in the world is no use at the bar, I mane the bar of a public house, unless you back it with the circulating

Sir Richard. I'm afraid you have been cir culating your earnings through a very impro-Mr. B. Devil a truer word you ever spoke in your life. Sir Richard. If I let you go now, you'll set off, and get drunk again. Mr. B. I'll go bail I wont, for I hav'nt rap in the world; and as for my credit, its like my coat-wore.out. Sir Richard. 1 am half disposed to try you. Mr. B. Not for tipling, I hope, your Worship, for if you do, I'm sure to be found guilty. Sir Richard. You seem to be a good-humoured fellow. Mr. B. There's a pair of us, your Worship Sir Richard laughed, and told Mr. B. to go about his business, and mend his ways. Mr. B. Before I go, I'll ask one favour. Sir Richard. Well, what is it?

Mr. B. Just to give me a bit of a note to your countryman, Mr. M'Adam, and as I despair mending of my own ways, perhaps he'll give me a job in mending the ways of others. Sir Richard again laughed, and bid him go out and wait, and he'd endeavour to put him in the way to industry.

Mr. B. shrugging his shoulders, with good humour, and, pulling up his unmentionables, trotted out of the office. The worthy Magistrate subsequently gave him a letter, which would probably procure for him present occu-

London on the 10th, the 9th was the day of the Mayor's feast.)-Thin attendance on Change to-day-dull eyes-languid countenance-a little nervous this morning-brisk demand for soda water and ginger beermuch breakfasting at the coffee-houses about twelve-scrags of mutton in great requestconfounded headaches -shall be homto morrow, my dear-let me have a little broth - leuce take the Lord Mayor: I'll never go

The costume of the Armenian women of struction is the richest in Russia, and peraps in the world. It is surprising that they mantles, and other Marble work can be had cheap, for cash, many 14 Astrachan is the richest in Russia, and per-haps in the world. It is surprising that they gold and pearls; the third, or outer vest, is almost of massive gold, in ponderous embroidery, with large gold knobs, gold buttons, gold tassels, gold fringe, &c. The turban is white, hangs over the left shoulder, and conceals the face, except the nose and eyes.

NEW GROCERY STORE.

The subscribers respectfully informs his friends and the public in general, that he has on hand, and intends keeping a general assortment of Groceries, Wines, and Liquors, which he is disposed to sell at the most reduced prices.

No. 66 North Sixth attack No. 66 North Sixth Attac ceals the face, except the nose and eyes.
The only hair disclosed is generally false, two thick locks, one on each side, being brought in front before the ears.

Italic Letters .- The invention of Italic letters in printing, is due to the celebrated printer, Aklus Marratius. Observing the many inconveniences arising from the numerous abbreviations then so common among printers, to get rid of those abbreviations, and yet not greatly increase the size of the book, he contrived the Italic letters, first called the Aldine.

Ministers .- Florimond de Remond gives the following etymology of this word .- Albert Bahinot having been a student in the School of Equity at Poitiers, called La Ministerie, used to be called, by Calvin and others, Mr. Minister, whence aftewards Calvin gave the name of Ministers to the pastors of his Church.

To remove Chilblains .- Take an ounce o white copperas, dissolved in a quart of water, and occasionally apply it to the part affected. This will ultimately remove the most obstinate blains. N. B. this application must be

THE HUSBANDMAN. No man, one would think, would feel so sensible his immediate dependence upon God, as the husbandman. For all his peculiar blessings he is invited to look immediately to the bounty of heaven. No secondary cause stands between him and his Maker. To him are essential the regular succession of the seasons, and the timely fall of the rain, the genial warmth of the sun, the sure productiveness of the soil, and the certain operations of those laws of nature which must appear to him nothing less than the varied exertions of omnipotent energy. In the country, we seem to stand in the midst of the great theatre of God's power; and we feel an unusual proximity to our Creator. The blue and tranquil sky spreads itself over our heads, and we acknowledge the intrusion of no secondary agent in unfolding this vast expanse. Nothing but omnipotence can work up the dark horrors of the tempest, dart the flashes of the lightning, and roll the long resounding rumour of the thunder. The breeze wafts to his senses the odours of God's benificence-the voice of God's power is heard in the rustling of the forest, and the varied forms of life, activity, and pleasure, which he observes at every step in the field, lead him irresistibly, one would think, to the source of being, beauty and joy.

How auspicious such a life to the noble sentiments of devotion!-Besides the situation of the husbandman is peculiarly favorable, it should seem, the purity and simplicity of mortal sentiment: He is brought acquainted chiefly with the real and native wants of mankind. Employed solely in bringing food out of the earth, he is not liable to be fascinated with the fictitious pleasures, the unnatural wants, the fashionable follies and tyrannical vices of more busy and splendid life.

Just published, and for Sale, by SAAC PUGH, South-East corner of Third and Race sts. "The Knowledge of the Lord, the only True God." To which is added Remarks upon the Doctrine of Perseverance, by JOB SCOTT. Price 25 Cents.
I. P. has also for sale "Salvation by Christ," by Job

BUCKMINSTER.

Books & Stationary, suitable for Store keepers, Teachers, &c.—Hanging Paper, a general Assortment sale, very cheap.

oct. 23-ti

CHEAP SHOE STORE, NO. 266,

S. E. corner of Market and Eighth streets. THE Subscriber offers his present stock of Boots and Shors at the following very low prices, viz: Gentlemen's best Phila made Boots, 4 00 to 4 50 do. do. Monroes, 1 50 do. do. Shoes, 1 25 do. Grain Shoes, 1 00 1 121-2 do. coarse do. 1 00 1 121-2 Do. do. do. coarse do. Boys' Monroes, best quality, 87 1-2 1 25 Do, fine Shoes, do, Do. coarse do. Ladies' Valencia Slippers, Do. do. Bootheels, 1 25 1 371.
Do. Morocco Slippers, 87 1 12 1.
Do. do. do. Bootheels, 1 12 1-2 1 25
Do. do. 2d quality, 50 75
Do. fine Leather shoes, 87 1-2 1 12 1. Bootheels, 1 25 1 37 1.2 50 75 87 1-2 1 12 1-2 Do. coarse do. do. 75 106 With a variety of Misses' and Children's Morocco and Leather Boots and Shoes, equally cheap, N. B. A general assortment of Trunks, also very cheap.

CHEAP PAPER WAREHOUSE. THE Subscriber begs leave to inform his friends and

The public in general that he has Removed his PAPER WARE-HOUSE to No. 206 North Third Street. Where he respectfully solicits & continuance of their

SAMUEL ECKSTEIN. The highest price given for Rags. jan 8-tf

SALEM BANKING COMPANY OTICE is hereby given that the Directors of the S. M. & Banking Company have this day declared a dividend of three and a half per cent on the Capital Stock of this Company for the last six months; which will be paid to the Stockholders or their legal representatives, on or after the 10th instant.

By order of the Board of Directors.

WILLIAM MULFORD, Cashier.

Salem, N. J. January 1, 1825. [jan 8-3t]

A New Song, to an Old Tune. Few months have flown since I was poor,

And hear the Clock's sweet chime.

Cherus—For John Gibbs, he is the man, At selling prizes high,
Then haste all you who cash can spare,
Be quick—a Ticket buy.

My numbers drew the highest prize, I do not now repine,
For I have cash to serve a friend
And take my glass of wine;
Then call on GIBUS, he has the cash, And Hope there smiles divine, Whilst Justice welcomes old and young, Who visit Fortune's shrine. Chorus—For John cibbs, he is the man,

At selling prizes high,
Then haste all you who cash can spare,
Be quick—a Ticket buy. UNION CANAL LOTTERY.

Fifteenth Class-New Series. Sixty number HIGHEST PRIZE. 30,000 DOLLARS.

Whole Tickets, 86-Halves, 83-Quarters, 81,50-

GIBBS' LUCKY OFFICE, NO. 41. SOUTH THIRD STREET. Office open every evening until 10 o'clock. Highest price given for all kinds of Gold and Spanis Dollars. jan 8-tf

CITY HAT STORE, WHERE Hats of every description may be obtained by wholesale and retail, which for beauty, durability and excellence of materials, are equal to any in BEAVERS, CASTORS, IMITATION BEA-

CHARLES & J. H. BULKLEY, 61, S. Third street, opposite Girard's Bank. N. B.-Hats of any shape or quality made to order.

TO MERCHANTS & OTHERS. JONES & HARRISON, Silk, Woollen and Cotton J Dyers and Scourers, No. 202 1-2 Arch, between Fifth and Sixth streets, Philadelphia, beg leave to inform their friends and the public in general, that they Dye, Restore, and Re-fold Goods of every description, at the shortest notice, and in the neatest manner. N.B. Family articles attended to with punctuality and despated.

espatch.
Orders from the country thankfully received, and every exertion will be used to have them ready to return by the conveyance sent. jan 22-tf

HARDWARE and CUTLERY. LARGE assortment of Hardware and Cutlery received per ship Tuscarora and other late arrivals from Liverpool, consisting of Ivory Handle Knives and Forks, Pen, Pocket and Pruning Knives; Shoe and Butcher Knives, Anvils, (L) Blistered and Cast Steel, Chest, Cupboard and Pad Locks, &c. &c. For Sale by G. M. & G. R. JUSTICE,

B. WILLIAMS. Dentist.

No. 149 Market Street.

No. 172 Vine Street, between 5th & 6th sts. No. 172 Vine Street, between 5th & 6th sts. PERFORMS all operations, in the line of his profession on terms which he trusts are calculated to give general satisfaction. He invites the attention of the public especially to the information which he has disseminated in the public prints on the subject of preserving the Teeth so as to render them sound and useful during life: and in all cases of decay or injury which the teeth may have sustained at any period of life, will cheerfully give information and advice gratis.

HOTEL AND CYSTER HOUSE. Back of No. 3 South Fourth street, near Market. JOHN CLULEY respectfully informs his friends and fellow citizens, that he has fitted up a neat and convenient room for the accommodation of his customers, where he will be happy to serve them with the best of Oysters, Terrapins &c. J. C. wishes to inform the public that his prices shall not exceed the customary charges in the oyster cellars. A private room for supper parties, and suppers provided at the shortest notice. Morris River, Cove, and York River Oysters. Also, Oysters put up to go by land or sea.

10-15

Wheelwrighting & Carriage making-THE Subscriber informs his friends and the public in general, that he has commenced Wheelwright-ing and Carriage-making, in all its various branches, and having a thorough knowledge of the latest fashions, flatters himself that he will be able to give general satis-faction to those who may favour him with their custom. JOSIAH HALL, Jr.

JOSIAH HALL, Jr.

All kinds of Carriages, Gigs, and Waggons, made and repaired on the shortest notice, and on the most reasonable terms, for cash, or trade.

Also, on hand, new and second-hand Gigs and Waggons, for sale. ons, for sale. Salem, Nov. 8, 1824. [nov 27-3m

To be Sold, at Private Sale.

FARM in the Township of Greenwich, County of Gloucester and State of New-Jersey, situate or nmell Creek, 13 miles from Camden, 2 miles from the River Delaware; Containing 132 Acres, 30 of Meadow, 3 of Cedar Swamp, 15 Acres of Woodland, and the remainder Arable Land, divided into 5 fields, a two story Brick Dwelling House and Kitchen, two Barns, Cribhouse, with other out Buildings, together with an excellent Apple Orchard. The public Road leading from Paulsborough to Renause true through the aremises. cellent Apple Orchard. The public Road leading from Paulsborough to Repaupo runs through the premises, and a packet which runs twice a week to Philadelphia in the summer season leaves near the same. Any person wishing to buy will first view the Farm—For further particulars apply to the Subscriber living thereon.
jan. 15-4t* WILLIAM BECKETT.

WRITING, DRAWING, and ENGLISH GRAMMAR. G. GARTH, respectfully informs Parents and other

he has commenced teaching the above branches in distinct classes. Scholars may be entered for one, or all the transfer. Scholars may be entered for one, or an the branches, as most convenient, particular hours being devoted to each subject.

The advantages of this mode of instruction are well known, When the teacher's undivided attention can be devoted to one class, not exceeding twelve, or fifteen, no A few vacancies remain to be filled up. For particu lars inquire at No. 363 North Third street, Green and Coates' streets. jan

Turning, Machine Making, &c. JOHN C, KINNAN, respectfully informs the Manufacturers and the public in general, that he has commenced the business of Turning and Machine making, at No. 40, SOUTH THIRD STREET, (Second Story) Philadelphia, where he hopes, by a strict attention, to merit the patronage of a generous public.

Turning in Silver, Steel, Iron, Brass, Ivory and Wood,

Turning in Silver, Steel, Iron, Brass, Is Turning Lathes made and repaired, Billiard Balls of seasoned Ivory, Ivory Counters, white and coloured, Ivory Cases for silver Pens, Ivory Memorandum Books in cases, Ivory and bone Umbrella and Parasol Mountings, Steel Nut Picks with ivory handles, Morocco Balls made and adjusted, Hose Screws and Engine Work,

Hose Screws and Engine Work,
Cutlers' Steel, Brass, Ivory and Wood Turning,
Screw Plates, Taps and Dies made and repaired,
Gold & Silver Smith's Turning,
Mill, Ship, sud all kinds of heavy Turning,
All sorts of Machinery made and repaired.

(1) Manufacturers are invited to send patterns of such parts of Machinery as they may want, such as Top Rollers, Saddles, Pinion Wheels, Berbins, Spindles, Fliers, &c. which will be punctually attended to, and delivered to order, at low prices.

28—8m

TOOTH-ACHE

cured Instantaneously and without Pain, even where all the known applications have failed to afford relief. S. MILFORD, Dentist, from London, A SURES those who may be disposed to try his re medy, that he will make a perfect cure, and enable A medy, that he will make a perfect cure, and enable the patient to chew with the teeth that were affected, even though the complaint had been aggravated by bad treatment. In less than forty-eight hours after the pain is cured, Mr. M. can plug the tooth with the greatest ease to the patient. Black and yellow teeth cleaned and brought to their original colour, and prevented from decaying, it it has commenced. He also separates and makes the teeth even, and takes away the decayed parts. Artificial Teeth neatly fixed and Stumps and Teeth extracted.

extracted.

MILFORD'S TOOTH POWDER. This highly aparroved and valuable Powder, is excelled by none in use;
it not only gives the Teeth an elegant polish but preserves and hardens the gums.—Price 25 cents.

Milford's ANODINE DROPS, for the cure of Tooth-Milford's ANODINE DROPS, for the care of Tooth-Ache-Price 50 cents, LOTIONS, for the cure of Scorbu-tic Gums, and to fasten the teeth, and restore the flesh when lost-Price 50 cents. These medianes are war-ranted efficacious and at the same time innocent; for sale by S. MILFORD, No. 163, South Fifth, near Spruce

JONATHAN FELL, No. 52, South Front St. 4th house below Chesnut, P. ESPECTFULLY informs his Customers and the Public generally, that he has now far sale the following Art cles of a superior quality, and at the most reduced prices—to wit:

MUSTARD, in Bottles, Canisters and Kegs.

CHOCOLATE, No. 1 and 2, and extra No. 1.

Ground and Bace GINGER.
Jamaica and Country CAYENNE and Cround Blac PEPPER.

J. S. RUSSELL NO. 68, Chesnut street, Has for sale a general and handsome Assortment of BRASS. BRONZED and JA-PANNED LAMPS, adapted to every purpose for hich light Glasses & Wicks of all descriptions, and every article conhect. ed with the use of Oil.

tob printing,

Holmes' Pulmonary Specific, FOR COUGHS AND COLDS.

FOR OOUGHS AND COLDS.

An Appeal to the public on the necessity of guarding against that much neglected Complaint generally termed a Common Cold and Cough, and of applying a safe and timely Remedy.

If we take a cursory view of the amazing number of diseases with which the inhabitants of the world are afflicted, and the almost innumerable remedies perpetually advertised for each, we should be apt to imagine that it is searcely possible for any human being to enjoy uninterrupted health for the short period of a single month by any effort of prudence or discretion which it may be in his power to exert: but if wa_minut:ly axamine into the nature and causes of these apparently distinct and separate complaints, here we must be surprised to find that a common cold has been the despised and neglected-parent of by far the greatest proportion. This being the fact, and which is well known to men of science and experience, into what narrow limits might not the application of medicine be confined, could we but be persuaded to pay more attention to ourselves on the first expectations. application of medicine be confined, could we but be persuaded to pay more attention to ourselves on the first approach of those symptoms which clearly indicate that we have caught cold: but we are too often deceived into an opinion, that while they are slight, there can be little or no occasion for medicine, which, for the most part, is generally loathsome and disagreeable, and which too few are prevailed upon to take while free from pain, or conceive themselves in no danger. A little reflection, however, upon the serious consequences that may hap pen from neglect, may lead to the adoption of the pleasant preparation now offered, which will be found both innocent and efficacious if taken according to the directions.

For sale at THATCHER & THOMPSON'S, N. W. corner of Market and Second Streets, and at No. 28 LOMBARD STREET.—Price, 37 1-2 cents per bottle. Philada. 12 mo. 18th.—tf

Bedding Warehouse, No. 128 North Third street.

A few doors above Race Street, Philadelphia.

AMUEL HIMMELWRIGHT, respectfully informs the public that he keeps constantly on hand an assortment of Elegant Feather Beds, Bolsters and Pillows, Curled Hair, Mattrasses of the best quality, best Geese Feathers, well dried; Bed Ticking, English and American; Venetian Window Blinds, and a general assortment of Fancy and Windsor Chairs, &c. &c.

Captains of Vessels, Sea-faring Men, and persons about to commence House-keeping, are invited to call and view the above assortment, as it will be sold very low for CASH.

THE BEREAN.

THE BEREAN.

The Berean, with Scripture and common sense for its guides, examines freely the opinions and practices of the religious professors of the present day. Bound to no sect, as a sect, nor to any creed, or set of opinions, because supported by great names. he reduces to practice the excellent advice of the Apostle,

"Prove all things; hold fast that which is good."

With the Bible in his hand, the Berean' contends for what he believes to be the faith "once delivered to the saints"—a faith both simple and practical, and within the compass of the humblest perceptions. Controversy in the commonly accepted sense, and opinions having no bearing on practice, he freely abandons to polemical zealots.

The Berean' judges no man: he condemns no man

polemical zealors.

The 'Berean' judges no man; he condemns no man unless already condemned by his actions. It is here that genuine heresy is seated. Actions therefore he will closely try—to actions he will closely press the infallible rale "By their fruits ye shall know them."

The work is executed in the best manner. Each num-The work is executed in the best manner. Each number consists of sixteen large octavo pages, in brevier type, and is issued every two weeks. Price two dollars a year, payable half yearly in advance. Twenty numbers have been already issued, which can be formished to those who may subscribe at this time on in future.

THE EDITOR.

Orders from any part of the United States, post paid, enclosing the amount of subscription, will be promptly attended to by the subscribers or their agents.

"" Editors of papers who may receive this advertisement and give the same three insertions, shall be entitled to our thanks, and a volume of the work.

MENDENHALL & WALTERS.

Wilmington, (Del.) Jan. 13, 1825. [jan 22-3t]

Wilmington, (Del.) Jan. 13, 1825.

CHEAP SHOE STORE.

No. 288, Market Street, fifth door below 8th street, Philadelphia. The Subscriber offers his present Stock of SHOES and BOOTS, at the following very

Gentleme	n's Phila	deiph	na m	ade v	varra	inted	4,00	2 8	.00
Do.		do.			M	onroes
Do.		do.				Shoes
Do.		do.		Buck		do
Men's		do.			ain
Do.		do.				do.	1.00	. 1	,25
Boys'		do.	Moni	roes, b	est q	uality	, 1,00	a 1	.12
Do.		do.		Shoe	R.	do.	87	al	.12
Do.		do.		Coarse		do.
Ladies'	Valencia	Slip
Do.	Morocco	do.	He	els an	d tri	mmed	1,00	a 1	.12
Do.		do.				do.
Do.			Boo	ts Tr	imm	ed.	1,62
Do.	Leather		1				1,12
Do.	Morocco	thic	k 808	aled S	hoes	1000	1,12
Do.		do.	do.	with	h He	els.	1,25
Do.	Leather	do.			lo.	30.00		af
Do.		do.		Pump	08.			a 1
Misses'	Morocco	do.		- 101	7500			a
	Valencia	do.						a
Do.	Leather	do.					50	a	62
	's More		outs,					-
	Leather		Sec.	200	No.	1. 32	- 37	7 2	62
With a	variety o	to in	hers,				4.0	4
	1			JU	SEF	HE	VAL	VS.
N. B. A	general	Asse	ortme	ent of	TR	UNKS	, also) V	ry
$		100		111111111111	and I did not		- N P

factory, No. 28 1-2 North Third street, west side, where articles in either line, may be had at a cheap rate UNDERWOOD, (from London) Manufacturer of

• Mustard, Cayenne, Essence of Anchovies, Cavice and other rich sauces, Kechup, Picolilly and all other Pickles, &c. &c. wholesale & retail, at No. 7 South Sixth street. DOOR MATS of a superior quality .- 169

D. TOMKINS's Cheap Dry Goods and Fassey
Store, No. 29 South Second-Street. A complete assortment of Tailors Trimmings constantly on hand.

DAVID CLARK, Book Binder and Paper Ruler, No. 171 Market street, 3d story—Blank Books ruled to any pattern, and bound in the handsomest manner. A LARGE collection of Canary, Mocking and Red BIRDS, for sale at No. 173 Cherry st. the first house above 8th st. Also, a large collection of Fancy Pidgeons.—3

CHARLES STEVENSON, Goldsmith and Jeweller No. 113 South Second street, opposite the Custom

cond st. keep for sale a large assortment of Clarified Quills. TOOTH BRUSH MANUFACTORY, No. 119 N. Third st. above Race. ANDREW MOORE keeps for sale, on reasonable terms, Brushes of every quality.

JACOB MAAS, Engraver in various branches, No. 128 Locust street, between Tenth and Eleventh sts. MANCY DYEING and SCOURING, at a reduced price, by S. WILLIAMSON, No. 38 North Eighth

GEORGE ALLCHIN, Backgammon and Chess Board Manufactory, No. 163 Vine street, -8 DOLWELL & SHERMAN, Mercers & Taylors, No. 237. Market street. -168

EORGE MILNER, Carpet Weaving and Custo-mer's Weaving done as usual. Carpeting for Sale, low, at No. 100, North Fifth street, near Race st.

JUSEPH DONALDSON Hat Manufacturer, has con-stantly for sale a large Assortment of HATS, No. 72, North Second street, above Arch street. 166—194 PHILIP WINNEMORE'S Fancy Dry Goods Store, No. 56 South Fourth street. An elegant assortment of Seasonable Goods of the first quality on hand,—170

A BRAHAM VANHORN's Suspender Manufactory, No. 22 Bank street Suspenders wholesale and retail at the lowest prices.—sept 4 INGLISH GRAMMAR taught correctly in the tenth part of the time usually devoted to it by J. GROUT, in the Shakspeare Buildings.—176

JE ICHARD STARR'S Type Foundry, No. 168 South JOHN McLOUD, Hatter, No. 45 Market street, keeps constantly on hand, a large and general assort-

GEORGE ALLCHIN, Book-Binder, and Gilder on the edges of Books, Letter & Filagree Paper, 103 DENJ. RICHARDSON, File manufacturer & Cutler, No. 77 S. Second st. Cutlery, of svery description, ground, polished and repaired in the best manner, at

CHAS. P. LISLE, No. 7 N. Sixth st. Land Agent, Bro

is required, together c. WILMARTH, has removed to No. 254 Market with LAMP

C. WILMARTH, has removed to No. 254 Market with LAMP

on hand a general assortment of Water Proof Cotton

JOHN CLULEY, Jun. No. 73 South Fifth Street, Philadelphio, MANUFACTURES Wire Fenders of various Patterns, Wire Meat-Safes to Reep out Flies, Brass Wire Work for Libraries, Book-Cases, &c. Neat Wire Bird Cages of all sorts, Wire-Work for Aviaties, Cellar Windows, &c. Screens for Gravel, Lime, &c. Land Chains, Rat and Mouse Traps, &c.

Old Fenders repaired and painted at the shortest notice.

. Orders from any part of the United States exercised with afacrity and dispatch.

jan. 22-68. A SHOP near the S. W. corner of Market and Schuyl kill Sixth, Streets (where a Wheel Wright is much wanted) can be had by a good workman on very favourable terms, Enquire at the Blacksmith's Shop adjoining.

INDEMNITY

THEIR AMBRICAN FIRE INSURANCE COMPAN Continue to make Insurance, on the most reasonable terms, against

PENNSYLVANIA MUSEUM

AND MENAGERIE.

No. 272 Market Street-above the Upper Market.

about three years ago, and was formerly one of the most savage and untractable of the species. He was broke by savage and untractable of the species. He was broke by Mr. Martin, his keeper, and would never be governed by any other person. The sagacity of this animal, together with the intrepidity and dexterity of his keeper, produce a spectacle, not only curious and diverting, but in some instances horrible to the spectator and dangerous to the keeper. Among a variety of singular marks of sagacity, he takes a stand in the centre of the room, and moves briskly round—his hind feet remaining in the centre, forming a circle with his head—places his keeper on his tusks, and in continued repetition round the circle, tosses him to the heighth of 10 or 12 feet, and with the most singular and seemingly studied accuracy, eaches in upon his tusks and trunk; and in conclusion, gives

NEW MARKET

BEDDING WAREHOUSE.

South East corner of Pine and Second streets.

sons who are about commencing House-keeping will find it much to their advantage to CALL and SEE their assortment, as in point of quality and price, they will not shrink from a comparison with any other Uphol-

CONSUMPTIONS, COUGHS, &c.

This Specific is obtained by extraction from here rocts, howers, plants, &c. when in perfection. In cosequence of a happy combination of the most valuable herbs, &c. it becomes a balsam of superior value, heals the injured parts, opens the gores, and composes the disturbed nerves after the manner of an anodyne; cosequently the obstruction of the chest and the lungs whiconstitute this disease, particularly need its use. It promotes expectoration, which is constantly called for an whilst is cleauses and heals, it also gives evength to trender lungs. In this manner is removes the hectic juer, improves digestion, gives expected to the mero

Wheel Wright's Shop TO LET.

FOR the cure of colds.

the breast and lungs.

generally confirmed by the experience of the best physicians of all ages

and countries, and none of more importance to the human family, than the LOSS OR DAMAGE BY FIRE.

ON PROPERTY OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, IN TOWN OR COUNTRY

ON Dwelling Houses of Brick, Stone or Wood, Barns and out-houses of the same materials, Stock in trade of every description, Mills and Factories, of all classes, Vessels in port and on the stocks, Household Furniture, Books, Plate, Pictures, and Writing Apparel, and, in fine upon every species of property, (Books of Accounts, and Obligations and ready Money excepted.) liable to destruction or damage by fire.

Insurances on brick or stone buildings, in the city or within a reasonable distance therefrom, in most of the towns in this State and the States adjoining, may be made perpetual. Other property may be insured for seven within a reasonable distance therefrom, in most of the towns in this State and the States adjoining, may be made perpetual. Other property may be insured for seven years, or any part thereof for a proportionate premium. perpetual. Other property may be insured for seven years, or any part thereof for a proportionate premium.

Insurances for seven years are only charged with the premium for six.

In the case of perpetual insurances, the money deposited as premium may be resumed at the pleasure of the assured, and the policy cancelled; the office retaining only one-twentieth of the deposite money.

Aford so small an annual suns, which, supposing to the ront so there, would scarcely be thought ten dollars expended in this way, would replace turn which cost three thousand, or reimburse a for the loss of the fruits of a year's anxiety and toil. This Company is prohibited, by its charter, from any insurance, save that of loss by fire, which supposing to the ront of a store, would scarcely be thought ten dollars expended in this way, would replace turn which cost three thousand, or reimburse a for the loss of the fruits of a year's anxiety and toil. This Company is prohibited, by its charter, from any insurance, save that of loss by fire, which supposing to the ront of a store, would scarcely be thought ten dollars expended in this way, would replace the ront of a store, would replace the ront of a store, would scarcely be thought ten dollars expended in this way, would replace the ront of a store, would replace

JOB BACON, SECRETARY Office, No. 101 Chesnut street, between Third and Fourth streets.

Jan 29

Elliott's Hair Restorative For the promotion, renovation and retention of the Decidedly superior to any yet produced Noffering the Hair Restorative to the attention; who may require its aid, in the prevention falling off of their Hair, the promotion of its (even in cares of hereditary baldness.) or for the (even in ear es of here ditary baldness.) or for the react of its growth if impaired by sickness or other cans.; a proprietor feels confident that it will equal every reas able expectation—its efficacy in the cases ment oned hing been most amply tested.

A very few applications of the Hair Bestorative, whe baldness prevails, will be productive of a covering Young Hair, resembling the fine capillaments perceived be in the centre of a flower growing up within a plan which, by attention in the use of the Bestorative wilke the young flower, rapidly advance to health in turity. Such have been its effects, as experienced by the proprietor, who had been subject to the inconvenient of baldness for the last 20 years: And in several of cases of a similar nature, the like success has attendents.

cases of a similar nature, the like success has atte

No. 272 Market Street—above the Upper Market.

ATE additions to the Menagerie—15 Living Animals, among which are TIPPOO SULTAN, the great Hunting Elephant of India, weighing upwards of 7000 pounds. The MAMMOTH LION, from Asia, full grown, with a large flowing mane; the largest and most beautiful animal of this species, ever imported into America.—A LAMA, from Peru, ananimal of wonderful speed. A SHETLAND PONEY, a very diminutive and sagacious Animal, &c. &c. THY and THICK, and acquire additional lustre. Eto those in the possession of good Hair, the use of Restorative would prove essential, inasmach as it we aid them in preserving that invaluable and highly or mental natural covering. To those desirous of the bellishment of Whiskers, it will promote their grounds as gentle, innocent, and benign Cephalic, the has rative may be safely, and with good effect, applied the heads of Infants or Children, whose Hair may pear deficient. Prepared by C. A. ELLIO IT, 39 Wal street, and sold at One Dollar per bottle-half size 50 Cents. Also, sold at No. 92, North West corner Second and Walnu streets, adjoining the Mercha Coffee-House; No. 114 North Fifth street, three deabove Race, and at No. 89. South Front, between C.

above Race, and at No. 89. South Front, between Conut and Walnut streets, Philadelphia.

Wholesale purchasers, by applying at 36 Walnut st.

him a toss into the air, the keeper turns a some set in his flight and safely lands on the back of the Elephant. The nature of the circumstance, and want of security of the keeper, render this exploit both more dangerous and intrepid, than the Hanging Feat of the celebrated Mr. Stoker.

Late additions to the Museum. The PROPHECY OF SIMEON, a splendid Painting, by Mr. Street; together with a large collection of other Paintings—70 WAX STATUES—A MECHANICAL ORGAN—A Presented State of the lood it has no parallel. It is the most use spring and autumn alterative ever known. All the work of the state of the celebrated Mr. State and other Natural Curiosities. WAX STATUES—A MECHANICAL ORGAN—A Pre-pared SEA ELEPHANT, and other Natural Curiosities. Admittance to ALL 25 Cents—Children half price. The Museum is a Large New Building, four stories high, containing four rooms, each 25 feet wide, and 125 feet deep. The two upper rooms are appropriated as a Museum and Repository of Paintings, Statues and other curiosities. who are americal with scroping, Leprosy, Scury, cutaneous Eruptions, or any of those melancholy dis sea arising from impurity of the blood and juices—althose who suffer by diseased Liver, Rheumatic aft tions, or from indiscretion of their youth, or the whose constitutions are broken down by mercurial, an monial, or arsenical medicines, should submit to a could Swaim's Panacea. The effect of this Medicine curiosities.

The lower story, together with a large yard and such as not to interrupt either business or pleasure, at outer busildings, are appropriated as a Menagerie, which already contains upwards of 25 rare and curious Living Animals.

The Proprietor invites the offer of Paintings and other pieces of Art or Natural Curiosities, which he will either purchase or deposit at a fair remuneration. His-

Animals.

The Proprietor invites the offer of Paintings and other pieces of Art or Natural Curiosities, which he will either purchase or deposit at a fair remuneration. Historical, Portrait, Transparent & other Paintings for sale, will be thankfully received, and deposited any length of time, and carefully preserved.

dec 18—tf In all complicated cases of Scrofula and Syphilis, where the Syphilitic Virus of the parent causes a development of Scrofula in the child, this is the only remedy upon which a single hope of recovery can be reasonably founded; there has been no instance of its failure, when properly used. It imparts vigour to the whole system while the cure is going on—an according whole system while the cure is going on—an operation so long looked for in vain by the medical world; at the same time the patient is enabled to take nourishing food, which under the common modes of practice, is usually wished from the sufferer. In thany instances where the horrible ravages of ulceration had laid hare lighment and bone, and where, to all appearance, no human means but amputation could have saved life; in cases extreme as even here described, have patients been smatched from the grave and restored to good health, and the devouring disease completely eradicated. The discovery of a remedy like this now offered for sale has been a desideratum from time immemorial.

The Proprietor does not suppose his bare assertion will convince: he will therefore give references to such will convince: he will therefore give references to such as have been cured, and those under his care, among whom are many highly respectable citizens, that shall whom we many highly respectable cluzers, that and satisfy the most incredulous of its superior efficacy in the disorders for which it is here recommended. Every member of society should aid in diffusing information of this discovery—humanity alone makes it a duty.

CERTIFICATES.

"I have, within the last two years had an opportunity of seeing several cases of very inveterate ulcers, which having resisted previously the regular modes of treatment, were healed by the use of Mr. Swaim's Panacea; and I do believe, from what I have seen that it will prove an important remedy in scrofulous, venereal and mercurial diseases.

"Professor of the Institute and wateries of Physic in Professor of the Institutes and practice of Physic is

South East corner of Pine and Second streets.

RARTLESON & HARMER, Upholsteters, respectifully inform their friends and the public in general, that they have opened a Bedding Warehouse at the southeast corner of Pine and Second streets, where they intend keeping on hand an extensive assortment of elegant ready made Beds, Bolsters and Pillows, of the best Superfine English Ticking, and best dried Feathers; elegant hair Mattresses, and a general assortment of Mattresses of an inferior quality; a quantity of Curled Hair; a general assortment of Feathers, well dried and ht for immediate use, and a quantity of Moss, Flock, Cottons, Cattail and Wool, Bedsteads and Windsor Chairs, and a number of articles in their line, all of which will be sold very low for cash. Young persons who are about commeacing House-keeping will find ous instances, within the last three years, and have always found it extremely efficacious, especially in secondary syphilis and in mercurial disease. I have no hesitation in pronouncing it a medicine of inestimable value.

W. GIBSON M. D. mable value.

W. GIBSON M. D.

"Professor of surgery in the University of Pennsylvania, Surgeon and Clinical Lecturer to the Alms House

"I have repeatedly used Swaim's Panacea, both is "I have repeatedly used Swaim's Fanacea, both in the Hospital and in private practice, and have found it to be a valuable medicine in chronic, syphilitic, and scrotulous complaints, and in obstinate cutaneous affections."

"Professor of Surgery in the University of New-York, Surgeon of the N. Y. Hospital, &c.

"Your 20th Line 4th 1884"

64 New York, 1st mo. 5th, 1824." Spitting of Blood, Asth-mas, and all diseases of AGENTS. AGEN 15.

Boston-J. P. Hall, Druggist, No. 1 Union street.

New York-Collins & Hannay, No. 239 Pearl street;

John B. Dodd & Co. Druggists, No. 181 Broadway, op-

John B. Dodd & Co. Druggists, No. 181 Broadway, opposite John street.

Lancaster, (Penn.)—Henry Keffer.

Pittsburg, (Penn.)—Charles Aver, & Co. Druggists.

Wilmington, (Del.)—Joseph Bringhurst, Druggist.

Baltimore—Henry Price, Druggist, Market street.

Washington City—William Gunton, Druggist.

Alexandria—Edward Stabler & Son, Druggists. There is perhaps no medical observation bet-ter established, none more Alexandria—Edward Stabler & Son, Druggists.
Norfolk—C. Hall, Bookseller.
Richmond, (Va.)—James McKildoe, Druggist.
Charleston, (S. C.)—S. Huard, Druggist.
Petersburgh, Va.—Bragg & Jones, Druggists.
Augusta, (Geo.)—Wm. H. Turpin, Druggists.
Natchez—Lehman & Beaumont, Druggists.
New Orleans—William McKean.
Agents in other cities will be appointed.
Patients whose situation and circumstances most difficult and incurable consumptions originate in neglected colds. In a climate so variable as ours, where the changes of the weather are frequently sudden and unexpected, it requires more care and attention to guard against this dangerous enemy of life, then most people imagine or are able and willing to bestow.—The bills of mortality exhibit the melancholy fact that the proportion of deaths by this disease may be considered as about five to one. Inasmuch then as this fatal disease bills defance to the skill of the most learned physicians, it is, a gratification to the broprietor that he is enabled to of Patients whose situation and circumstances enable them to come to this city, and place themselves under the proprietor's care, would find it much to their advan-

of medical plants; governed wholiv by experience, they of medical plants; governed wholiv by experience, they of medical plants; governed wholiv by experience, they of certain as to their effect, and is is said by an author of great character, that a true consumption is a disease never known among them.

The celebrated Dr. Cullen has taught no that "our first attention should be employed in watching the approach of the disease, and, preventing its proceeding to an incurable state; and in persons of a consumption at the consumption of an approaching consumption at the consumptive period of life, ought carefully to be attended in."

This Specific is obtained by extraction from here the specific is obtained by extraction from here.

Price $3 per bottle, or $30 per dozen. Communications, post paid, and orders from any part of the world, will receive immediate attention.

Or Printed Directions accompany the Medicine.

William Swaim.

No. 13 South Ninth street, Philadelphia, opposite ver, improves digestian, gives strength to the nerves, repairs the appetite and improves the spirits. This specific may always be given in safety—it is mild, pleasant to the tarte, and may safety be given to infants, for which it is of inestimable value. It affords relief in bownet complaints, teething, whooping coughs, or, and is found particularly useful in hypochendrical, nervous and hysterical diseases. Each bill of directions contains a detailed account of this disease. In all the different stages, it is offered for sale by THATCHER & THOMP. SON. North West Corner of Market and Second streets, PETER WILLIAMSON, Corner of Almond and Second streets, THOMAS CAVE, 324 Market street, Or. The work will be printed in octain 12 sermons and about three hundred pages.—The work will be delivered to subscribers, neatly bound and lettered, for